

Kidushashem Today:

I am so depressed. I had a great, almost 6 month clean streak that ended a couple months ago and it's been a terrible down hill since then.

You would think that after such a long clean streak I would have strong mental barriers against viewing all the trash that I had viewed in the past. Instead, it takes only a few hours from the first fall for me to get right back to where I left off half a year earlier, doing the same stuff and much worse. My appetite isn't satiated any more through the old stuff and I need "bigger and better".

This is incredibly tough because I feel I haven't moved forward too much. Won't I ever recover that sensitivity that I had? It took about a year of masturbation for the YH to finally convince me to do legit porn.

In addition, the last 6 months do not seem to have given me more sensitivity to feel more ashamed and upset when I finally fell. To the contrary: I feel more comfortable that I ever felt with porn and I even feel completely comfortable with no fences in place. I don't want fences because I know that later I'm gonna want to view more garbage.

In the past, after every action I would feel terrible and set up some kind of fence to help for the future. Now I don't even care.

The reason I'm writing this post is because I care that I don't care. I'm sad that I'm not sad.

I want to finally break through and finish with this trash but I feel like I don't care enough right now. Like I should just continue with this trash until I care enough. But I want to care NOW! It's almost 9 Av and I'm in this disgusting situation. I feel like dirt.

Is there anyone out there who can identify and give me some unconditional love and chizuk?

That would be greatly appreciated!

wow, 15 days! I'm so happy. So so happy.

I want to thank everyone on GYE, especially all you awesome people who have been giving me all this support on my thread!

so much going on, so much going through my mind. so much growth. so much love. I'm breaking out.

I'll write a better more advanced post BL"N soon.

I just wanted to update everyone as of now. Life's awesome. Anyone who wants some perspective, read my first post, read my posts from the last few days when I was depressed and read this one, all in order.

It's incredible how fast changes happen and how volatile this makes life. Such a violent and powerful change. Incredible.

Thanks guys,

I love you all.
