

Anyone in or near St. Louis?

Posted by musicguy - 21 Sep 2011 19:20

Hello all...

Although I am fortunate to have a good therapist and one person from this site that I email and IM with, I believe that it would be really helpful for me to find someone in my area that I can get together with every week or two, call when in trouble, etc. It would be great to even get a small group together to support each other.

Is there anyone here in the St. Louis area who might consider getting together in person? Of course discretion would be of top importance.

MG

Ha - I think 300 miles might be a little out of the way...! Wish you were closer!

Hey Music!

Welcome back!

How's it going?

I'm in Podunk, Mississippi (like Bard's in Bardstown KY)

Hey - I'm doing OK but had a slip while out of town the other day after 4 months clean. I had taken lots of precautions but it turned out there was soft core P on HBO on the TV. I watched for a few min and M'ed, enough for me to start counting again from day 1. Frustrating but all I can do is learn from the experience. Planning to have the TV removed from hotel rooms from now on.

Thanks for asking!

music guy

ooooopps

i should have said hello first

i live in bardstown ky which is really a figment of my imagination

weird wacky wild imagination

i am proud of your progress

keep on trucking

i am only on this forum to help out as many people as i possibly can i do it with humor and good cheer and some bourbon

keep on trucking is my motto!

don't worry just do your best G-d will do the rest!!!!!!!!!!!!

Bard--Glad I read that stuff before you yanked it (the part about bourbon mashing and all--you've just got this elaborate imaginary world going). I haven't laughed so hard in a long time.

Music--

How's your leg?
