

Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 09 Oct 2011 10:26

Not really interested in starting a new thread, but I felt that the following link was inspirational enough to share. So I hereby give permission to all GYE terrorists to hijack this thread.

<http://damesek.blogspot.com/2011/10/realistic-is-relative-kol-nidrei-5767.html#more>

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by tehillimzugger - 09 Oct 2011 11:07

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by צחוק עשה לי - 09 Oct 2011 11:26

:D beautiful piece. thanks for posting the link.

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 09 Oct 2011 18:40

hey, ya from milwaukee! i love that city and the holy rebbe!!!
my apologies to my good friends Reb Yid et al

who cant access the link

I forgot, Im sorry

Thanks to shteeble I now know how to attach it.

I think.

=====

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 11 Oct 2011 10:18

Well if nobody is taking this thread away, then I'll keep posting more inspiring things I find.
Exhibit B

<http://www.torah.org/learning/olas-shabbos/5764/sukkos.html>

great pshat in "rishon L'cheshbon avonos"

a few years back I came up with an idea that we arent too busy to do aveiros

(unfortunately we all know that bitter pill a.k.a. the first fall after yom kippur)

but we are so busy that its the first chance after yom kippur to do a cheshbon hanefesh on our avonos. But now that i see this pshat i like it better it answers more difficulties.

anyhow enjoy!

Will attach copy soon. stay tuned

=====

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 11 Oct 2011 10:20

copy

=====

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 11 Oct 2011 14:46

thank you Gesher!

i am adding them to my 'to-read' pile

=====

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by gibbor120 - 11 Oct 2011 15:16

I'm adding it to my Re-Read pile. It was a great article! Thanks!

=====

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by tehillimzugger - 12 Oct 2011 01:48

Gesher Tzar Meod wrote on 11 Oct 2011 10:18:

Well if nobody is taking this thread away, then I'll keep posting more inspiring things I find.
Exhibit B

<http://www.torah.org/learning/olas-shabbos/5764/sukkos.html>

great pshat in "rishon L'cheshbon avonos"

a few years back I came up with an idea that we aren't too busy to do aveiros

(unfortunately we all know that bitter pill a.k.a. the first fall after yom kippur)

but we are so busy that it's the first chance after yom kippur to do a cheshbon hanefesh on our avonos. But now that I see this pshat I like it better it answers more difficulties.

anyhow enjoy!

Will attach copy soon. stay tuned

why should we do teshuva meahava on succos? see:

www.guardyoureyes.org/forum/index.php?topic=4590.0

=====

====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 20 Oct 2011 19:42

I was on such a high during succos. I felt like for the first time in my life I did teshuva on inyanei kedusha and i actually had a track record to back up my words. I felt Hahsem's closeness thru the 4 minim. I was really inspired. The second yomtov ended though, I felt like it all just disappeared. suddenly I was afraid. afraid of the future. afraid of fighting this monster throughout the winter. (I know I know - one day at a time!) The YH really started getting to me. so i thought of something that i saw during hallel.

The pesukim ?????? ?? ????? ??? ?????? ???. ??? ?????? ?????? ?? ????? ????? always left me uninspired. until now i understood that it translates loosely as I rememained loyal even though I suffered alot I said in my haste that all men are deceitful (based on Rashi and Abarbanel)

But I saw based on the me'iri and radak that dovid hamelech was saying that he retained his faith that he would be king of klal yisrael despite all the naysayers.

The YH keeps telling me you cant possibly keep this up. I have the memory of hallel holding the 4 minim to keep me going and reminding me that its all a lie! I can succeed! B'ezer Hashem I will succeed! I will remain loyal despite what the YH says!

=====

====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by Blind Beggar - 21 Oct 2011 06:19

Gesher Tzar Meod wrote on 20 Oct 2011 19:42:

I was on such a high during succos. I felt like for the first time in my life I did teshuva on inyanei kedusha and I actually had a track record to back up my words. I felt Hahsem's closeness through the 4 minim. I was really inspired. The second yomtov ended though, I felt like it all just disappeared. Suddenly I was afraid. Afraid of the future. Afraid of fighting this monster throughout the winter. (I know, I know - one day at a time!)

Winter draws on and women all over the northern hemisphere are putting on more clothes and covering up, so it will be a little easier in the street unless you have a fetish for umbrellas.

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 22 Oct 2011 18:49

true BB

but that hasnt stopped my YH in the past

One thing I must say though

as i was going to sleep last night

all sorts of images and thoughts started popping up in my head and BH i was able to shut them down

I do feel alot stronger than i ever felt b4

what scares me is the fact that as you get stronger

Hashem Yaazor!

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by geshertzarmeod - 06 Nov 2011 07:16

I came across a strange Gemara (well I'm strange, I just had a hard time understanding it). The Gemara in Shabbos 89b asks why the pasuk ?? ????? ?????? ????? ?????? refers to the crimson red sins in the plural form it should say ??? . The Gemara answers that if your aveiros are like these years ????? that are arranged in order from the begining of creation then Hashem will turn them white.

Now I read this over and over trying to make heads or tails of it with no success.

What does that mean?

I found that the Maharal in his chidushei aggados explains beautifully (though he doesnt need me approbation) He says there are people who sin occasionally and those people are certainly not affected by those aveiros. But then there are people who are so entrenched in their aveiros that its arranged and in order for what seems like forever. (we know that feeling all too well!) The pasuk is saying that even for these people who may think that their neshama has been soiled with indelible red ink, IT'S NOT TRUE !!!!

Anything that has been around from sheishes ymei braishis is physical and physical things are by defintion limited, they must and will come to an end!

A YID HOWEVER IS NOT PHYSICAL (no matter how badly he has acted)

A YID IS SPIRITUAL AND BY DEFINITION AVEIROS AND ALL PHYSICAL THINGS DONT HAVE ANY PERMANENT EFFECT UPON HIM.

Hashem says even such a person will be cleansed by HKBH himself similar to what the navi says that in the end of time Hashem will look for our aveiros and He wont find them because He will forgive all of us.

My apologies for any misunderstanding or misrepresentation of the Maharal's words.

=====

Re: Inspiration

Posted by JackAbbey - 06 Nov 2011 16:09

now that is really inspiring, many thanks

=====