

I'm about to FALL!!

Posted by jerusalemsexaddict - 13 Aug 2009 21:26

Allright so as everyone here knows,we on the site often here desperate "call-outs" from people who feel that they are about to fall any minute.Sometimes the emergency units don't have enough time to respond to put out the fire,or are simply unaware of the emergency.

In any case,I am declaring this guardyoueyes's official 911 switchboard.

If there's an emergency of any sort,even a chashash,post here IMMEDIATELY!And well come to your rescue as soon as possible,iy'h.

You can post your emergency here,or give us a link to your thread where you can speak about your emergency.And our volunteers will respond as soon as possible to your calls.

As some people might feel uncomfortable reading women's struggles,I am putting one in the women's section,and whoever feels safe creeping over to the other side of the mechitzah is welcome to go in thereand help.

Wishing everyone the best-Uri

Thank you for clarifying my expression. Yours is certainly what I meant. The more battles we win, the less battles we face as time progresses, and the less challenging they are. Challenging they nevertheless are, and we should never become complacent as though we've outsmarted the yetzer hara - I've tried that! But certainly a good point you made a bout 'not giving in' being part and parcel of the obsession itself.

I'm reading Chief Rabbi Jonathan Sacks's Faith Lecture now, and I just happened upon this particular passage, quite relevant and true:

"Cain, when G-d says to him, Lepetach chatat rovetz - sin is crouching at the door - ve'elecha teshukato - and it desires to have you - ve'ato timsho bo - but you can master it. When he says to Cain: You are free. And Cain rejects that as well."

Let's not forget, G-d gave us all free will to make the right moral choice! We can master our Yetzer Hara, our base passions, or we can let it master us. What I think is most important is that we remind ourselves every time we get an urge, every time we are challenged by the Yetzer Hara, that G-d gave us the strength to master it, and it too shall pass.
