

I'm about to FALL!!

Allright so as everyone here knows,we on the site often here desperate "call-outs" from people who feel that they are about to fall any minute.Sometimes the emergency units don't have enough time to respond to put out the fire,or are simply unaware of the emergency.

In any case,I am declaring this guardyoueyes's official 911 switchboard.

If there's an emergency of any sort,even a chashash,post here IMMEDIATELY!And well come to your rescue as soon as possible,iy'h.

You can post your emergency here,or give us a link to your thread where you can speak about your emergency.And our volunteers will respond as soon as possible to your calls.

As some people might feel uncomfortable reading women's struggles,I am putting one in the women's section,and whoever feels safe creeping over to the other side of the mechitzah is welcome to go in thereand help.

Wishing everyone the best-Uri

Hey there are no absolutes

Why is it "only" one or the other

Try both for a small bite sized 30 minute period

WHAT IM TRYING TO SAY IS

WHY DOES IT HAVE TO BE ONLY ONE OR THE OTHER

WHY NOT

TRY TO REFRAIN FROM BOTH

FOR AT LEAST 1 HALF HOUR

AND THAT WILL GIVE U THE STRENGTH TO DO ANOTHER HALF HOUR ETC...

I know that when I'm dealing with stress, relaxation breathing techniques help relax me...are you familiar with any of them?

none . enlighten me.

You can do this no matter where you are - you can even do it while standing, walking, or driving. The easiest way to do it, though, is when you're either sitting or lying down, and you can close your eyes.

Now, breathe slowly, in through your nose, and out through your mouth (well, mouth and nose, just exhale). Now, here's the key - usually, when we take a deep breath, we breathe into our chest, expanding our chest. When we do that, though, our body naturally speeds up, becoming more tense.

Instead, keep your chest level, and breathe into your stomach (well, not really into your stomach, but it'll look like your stomach is expanding). Take slow breaths, and do this for several minutes. As you breathe out, each time, you should start to feel yourself relaxing, bit by bit...

Try to keep your mind relaxed and blank...if unwanted thoughts come in, don't push them out, just let them slide away...

Hope that helps!

Another good idea is to download hypnosis audio tracks. You can download the ones that deal specifically with stress, but really any will do. They are really relaxing.

Thanks.
