

Addicted to the Guard Your Eyes website
Posted by newlife - 31 Oct 2011 02:07

I'm so hooked on this website. I'm on day 13 of 90 and day 13 of joining the forum. Is this good or bad? And I know most of you will say "better than being hooked on other things". Anyhow I thought its an interesting topic.

Same "4" Me!

It's the best addiction I've ever had, and I'm not interested in a cure.

Its the best addiction ever, cheaper then smoking, and you dont get a hangover. And you dont feel bad for going on. Good luck with your addiction.

Every person in the world has "addictions", however, be careful not to confuse this with the real problematic addiction that this site deals with. It can might light of the addiction. As i have done many times.

Loften overlook the most obvious explanation :

apparently the addiction is par for the course.

I went thru it also as did many others

it was eventually calmed down when it started to interfere with life

at one point I shut down almost all posting

and just kept up with the chart

and now Im back on within reason its by far better than the other addiction that we've grown accustomed to so enjoy while it lasts!
