Need people to interview in film about the dangers of the Internet
Posted by the.guard - 20 Dec 2011 11:04

_____

Charlie Harari who works with Aish.com and project Inspire (see www.aish.com/authors/48869347.html) is doing a film about the dangers of the Internet. He asked us for people he can interview that have first hand experience, either through their own actions or a close loved one, whether through pornography, cyber-bullying, ruined reputation, broken marriages etc. He will protect their identity fully... I believe he wants to film for this documentary already this coming Thursday. It could be a big boost for GYE - and a big ziukui harabim if we can send him people who have been helped through GYE. (He is also a potential donor). If you would be willing to be interviewed about your story, please contact us ASAP at eyes.guard@gmail.com.

Thank you!

==

Re: Need people to interview in film about the dangers of the Internet
Posted by chochmasOdom - 23 Dec 2011 00:58

_____

im assuming this is in the US?

==