

Zohar Scanning for Sustenance

Posted by DesertLion - 31 Jan 2012 22:43

Hey Guys,

A guy who studies the Zohar sent me this link to a special prayer from the Torah called the 'Parashat Ha'man'. Apparently scanning the passage can help one 'to make a powerful connection for sustenance'. He asked me to share it with my friends. You guys are the only people I 'know' who might appreciate this.

I don't believe in expecting God to work miracles or help us without us sweating and putting in the hard work. BUT, if any of you are looking for a job, going through financial difficulties etc then I say we've got nothing to lose by giving this a try in addition to taking practical steps and action.

After all, it's MUCH EASIER to be free of the addiction when things are going well and one feels fulfilled.

What does shkoyach mean?

Thanks,

DL

Loosely translated it's the English equivalent of "thanks" or "very nice".
