

Wondering....

Posted by ANewStart - 20 Apr 2012 19:31

---

B"H

Hi everyone, hope you're all great. Maybe someone that understands the human psyche can give me a bit of an insight to something I face. Why is it that I am totally turned off by non frum women and disgusted by their hanhagos, but I have strong desires for frum, especially tzniyus women. I have a desire to get close to frum girls especially, but being a bochur it's just not an option. Any insights on why this is , and some advice would be really appreciated. Good Shabbos

=====

Re: Wondering....

Posted by Holy Yid - 20 Apr 2012 22:40

---

Dr. Bentzion Sorotzkin drsorotzkin.com/ has an article about this cant find it now sorry

=====

Re: Wondering....

Posted by JustKeepGoing - 22 Apr 2012 15:05

---

I go through the same thing, and I've felt that the reason for my self is two-fold

Firstly, The Tzanua ones are really more beautiful because it shows a self-respecting character, which is attractive in a more refined kind of way

Secondly, The non Tzanua ones are totally not an option while you know that theres a chance for the Tzanua ones, (looking at the girls and thinking hey maybe shes my shidduch)

----JKG

=====

====