Hey guys,

Found this video that talks about the effects of porn from a scientific perspective, and illustrates the consequences with real-life examples.

What's it say?

My filter won't let me on to You Tube.

My filter won't let me on youtube, either, and for a good reason. But if you can find a way to watch it (on your boss' comp for example) its worthwhile. Not really telling us something we don't know about dangers of porn, but putting it into perspective.

Guys I found it on a website called covenant eyes. I'm going to read my way thru it and will share all the good stuff if your internet is filtered and blocked.

I was an addict and I know that if I had known the full consequences of my actions before I became addicted I would not have taken the first steps on the road to ruin.....

Hey guys,

Finally, found the link to the video 'pleasuring ourselves to death':

www.covenanteyes.com/2010/07/15/pleasuring-ourselves-to-death-how-porn-harms-us/

One thing that really struck me is how all the guys thought they would never do certain things, but little by little they all ended up doing them. Sounds familiar hey?

So let's not let addiction rob us of our self-respect, talents and the 'greatness of men' ever again.
