

Something must be done

Posted by Ano Nymous - 16 Dec 2008 22:14

I just came here and clicked on the new topic, to see it filled with naughty pictures. I was able to close it so fast I surprised even myself, but something has to be done about this. We should not have to face this temptation while on this forum. Maybe image linking can be turned off on the forum?

I use bluecoat together with Rimon, but I am almost sure it was the k9 doing blocking the pictures. I have bluecoat now or about 5 months, and Rimon only recently. I have seen k9 block out the thumbnails before on many sites...when set to the next to highest level.

I did the see the small square blocks of the thumbnails, but they were empty.
