

Tryin'

Posted by cordnoy - 23 Jun 2013 09:41

Shalom

I am in my 40s married with children

Recently, I decided to get help on a serious level with my addiction .

My mind wanders and the tayva builds.

It would be easy to blame this on the lack of excitement in marriage intimacy, but I had done this at times before marriage, and at times, when marriage bedroom was good, I'd still fall. Perhaps it still is the reason, but marriage stuff is probably not gettin' better anytime soon.

I have more to write, but as this is my first post, id like to hear some suggestions first please.

Thank you so much

C

Welcome,

Stick around and you should be able to learn a thing or two.

Not sure how you changed the thread title, but that's a no-no around here.

We look forward to hearin' more from you. I wish I was here at your age.

This is war!

That's the battle - and it's over

The war is that my karma jumped 5 today, and you asked me not to raise yours, so why do you keep at mine?

Can we come to a peaceful resolution?

Or we'll need a moderator for peace talks

Sure; I (and others) will raise; you won't.

Thatl sounds peaceful to me, as long as you don't touch my thread title.

hi, i am a young teenager sucked into the terrible tumaah of this world. B"H i have been working hard to overcome the taayva. as a teenager myself i could testify that this taayva in this day and age is swarming in a yid if he wasnt careful with himself when he was younger as i know alotof people who,maybe wont say out right they have a problem but its known that they do. its been a year ive been working on myself and i stopped looking at things on the internet for about 8 months now however i find it hard to stop because the memorys are still in my head and i have a taveh to continue even without the websites. i cant go more than 7 days till ibreak again. Please if somenomne knows of a solution for me please let me know. This is the first time i opened up t people about it even though ive made tremendous progress by myself from what i used to be im afraid i need help

thanks

Welcome to GYE. You have shown courage and honesty by sharing your story. Keep reading and keep sharing. B'ezras Hashem and with help from the guys here you will break free.

Thank you for the call. I liked it a lot. Now go clear up that fishy situation.

Update: I first wrote smelly. Oh well.
