shalom

i feel i dont - no i dont- no i dont - want to go back to my past, i feel that the Yetzer-harra aka Malach Hamuves is running after me with a ax, so im running away into a forest, and guess what, here in the deep forest i see a whole group of yiden who are running away, guess what, im not the only 1, there is a whole group of ppl.

even not knowing exactly the plan, but hey, we are not alone here, we have quite a few chevra here.

1 thing is for sure, 1st step is will stay in the group, sit with the chevra, ????? ???? ???? , and together we will iy"h find epes a way.

And Duddy knows that I don't read the stuff he sends me; he's hopin' that I keep 'em in a safe place, and after I convert, I will read 'em all.

I don't know what I have.

I have thrived thru this recovery process and this site and the chevra.

What this has to do with this thread, I'm not sure (besides for my one comment).

I'm still waitin' for Duddy to explain his.

Git Chodesh

B"h we r doing fine, as a day at a time passes by, b"h.

the reason i had put up this letter is cuz Rabbi Shick just Passed Away zt"l, and i got from him this letter back in November, and it was very strong words for me, knowing not to focus on a tikkun, just the only tikkun is to STAY AWAY, and this is the strongest Tshuva, so i figured ill post it "might be useful for some1 in same situation.

Is the point that the sinner, who although is physically alive, is spiritually dead. And, the Tzadik who is physically dead, has eternal life? I like the follow up post much better ?????? ??? ?????? !!!

The Torah about teshuvah being as described in the letter, although a gevaldike insight, never helped me. It always just made me feel defeated. Not only did I fail in the aveira, I also failed in the teshuvah. It also implied, to me, that I would inevitably be in the same situation again. I now know that I don't have to be in that situation again. My "teshuvah" is to never place myself in that situation again. Thanks for that reminder!

The Olam says, "Where there is a will, there is a way" We say, "Where the is a G-d, there is a Will!". The first way may work for the olam, I don't know. For me, my will never worked out very well. His Will is working out pretty good so far.

Hatzlacha!

Hello All

just got a email from 1 of our beloved chevra here, ill quote what he wrote to me:

Hello David AKA Duddy

Thank you for posted the letter of Harav Schik Zt"l, it was very powerful and strong for me, i printed it out and i keep on seeing there the biggest Chizuk Ever.

that the main part of Tshuvah is not to go back to the Aveire, and that i should know that if i do, i will get caught, and i wont have a hole where to hide....

i keep on reviewing it

Thanks Again
