This isn't the first time he's taken a break and it won't be the last. He said he needed a break for the good of his sobriety, so why don't you just let him have some space?

Serenity

If you'd decide to take an extended break I would also make a fuss, Sorry.

We need all the greats 24/7.

~~addiction can go on~~ Life will have to go on without him on the forums...

Ty, that's kind of you to say. Btw in the event that I do take a break, don't worry about it. Sometimes things are beyond our control. If it lasts more than 10 months, then u can send the Sheriff aftwr me.

Hey Markz I think that you would be a perfect substitute for Cordnoy, why not take over the reigns for a while now?
