Posted by Chazg - 22 Dec 2015 14:33

I'm new on this forum and have been struggling with porn addiction for a long time 9 yrs. every time I stay sober for a month I feel great but then fall in to a rut and can't seem to get out of it. I feel worthless and feel like sh*t any advice on where to start?!?

I'm married and have kid and worried this is affecting relationship and feeling really depressed I'm worried...

Welcome!

Take a seat, relax (put your feet on the desk if you like - no not my desk!!!)

Someone will be over soon to hand you the keys to your truck, and you'll be well on your way

Maybe you want to try out the GPS in my signature? No extra charge :-)

Welcome.

Many of us found that sharing our experiences and hearing those of others proved to be beneficial.

Welcome! I can relate to this very much. I'm feeling so tired cause I haven't had my coffee

On a more serious note, you are really not alone with this struggle and you have joined a great chevra here. You'll receive lots of warmth and encouragement if you take time to write and share your feelings. Hatzlacha!
