

Chol Hamoed Trips

Posted by Birshusi - 25 Apr 2016 22:49

Not a good chol hamoed trip for me today. What am I supposed to do in a place filled with frum girls? We were in a relatively empty spot for a bit, but then we went to the car to snack and I spent the whole time watching a girl play Frisbee. I couldn't stop. Then we went to a different spot which was more crowded and I stuck it out for a bit before pretending to get a phone call and walking somewhere else. Overall my eyes wandered a lot, and that one girl got the brunt of it. What am I supposed to do, not go on trips with my family? It's so frustrating. And there's three days of trips left.

His Rebbe banned the metal ones because they're too modern. His Rosh Yeshiva banned the plastic ones because they're too modern. Now what...

The treehuggers banned those...

I guess there's still...

Warning: Spoiler!
