i think it is. what do you think?

That does sound productive. If you need more you add more. But usually theses things get worse before they get better. Again, kol haschalos kashos.

what do you mean? please clarify

Please make use of the quote button. It makes it easier to follow.

Il have no idea why He would want us to suffer, but there is sufferin' in the world; there is evil in the world; there are sicknesses and diseases in the world; there is death and tragedy as welll.

by posting on the forum. is that good?

My experience is that I use lust as a substance, just like one would use alcohol or drugs. So when I stop lusting, all those things that I would generally soothe with lust come to the surface. And I can be pissed off or fearful for days. That's what I mean by getting worse. And I also realized a lot of painful things about myself and my family. I'm not yet in the "getting better" phase. I'm happy, but there's a lot of stuff that will need to be worked on, when the time is appropriate.

I was going to say that Cordnoy and Tony the Tiger got into a fight, but I realized that Tony says "Grrrrreat", not "Ggggggreat." Although GYE does have experience with some cereal mascots. (That was for you, Gev).
