

Pidaini & Mr Emunah's P & M Mincha Group

Posted by cordnoy - 26 Mar 2017 03:28

---

Inspired by two of yesteryear's greats, I'd like to initiate a new nonexclusive group.

First, some background:

Pidaini initiated a KRIS"H group for shema al haMitah.

Mr. Emunah was a countin' to the P and the M (he is in the thousands now B"H).

On Friday, there was an in-depth conversation on the Phone from fellows on both sides of the Pond regardin' connections to God, and it spilled out that some (includin' I) are not the best Minchah go'ers, to say the least. Therefore, i figured that what better way is there than to start a Mini group to the P and to the M for all those who wish to be Mechazek in Minchah services. Perhaps we/I can build a connection in this way; and if not, it Probably can't hurt.

The rules for this group are:

There ain't no rules!

Suggestions:

1. Any word beginnin' with a P or an M should be capitalized.
2. If you Post on this thread, you should end it by indicatin' your streak to the P(rivate Minchah) and to the M(inyan Minchah).

2 to the P and 2 to the M!

3. G's at the end of words are respected.

0 P and 0 M

What is the "rule/suggestion" about mincha while traveling by airplane?

0 to the P and 1 to the M!

0 P 1 M

Thank you.

It is impossible to have 0 P and 1 M. Perhaps I should have been More specific. When one davens with a Minyan, he Marks a 1P and a 1M. If he davens Privately, he Marks 1P and 0M. This way, the P can still continue, even though his streak of M stopped. Then, of course, he can start again.

So this is the way to post

1 to the P and 1 to the M

So you only get one M if you hear chaZara hashatz

And if you Miss a Mincha completely you reset to zero on both?

Please keep to your rules-or Must we only state our count at the end of the first Post of the day (Post Mincha) and not all subsequent Posts that day until the next Mincha?

So as long as you grab a kossel you will always keep your P count rolling!

1M and 1P

This group is all about honesty. You either did an M, or you didn't. If you davened Privately, it will count for the P, but not for the M.

Chazaras hashatz is fine for both, as long as you davened.

Correct. Miss completely, reset both.

Correct about signin'.

Correct about grabbin' a kosel.

Ya baby!

Number ten I was.

Forget about simcha, blame, depression, and all that other stuff. This was Pure bliss. I ran into the Main sanctuary and Practically hugged the gabbai Mr. Peters, as they now had a tenth Man!

That's a connection.

3 to the P and 3 to the M.

(Not stayin' for Maariv.)

I don't follow the whole Rashei Taivos

But today I was in Minion rush (name of a game) as happens sometimes and was gonna Pray Mincha alone

But in honor of this thread I decided to Pop into My local establishment to join a Public forum of 10 Men

Then, Tonight at a Party I often have to Participate, I oftentimes am Pressured to leave and Pray alone

I decided again to Pray instead with the quorum thanks to this thread of cordnoys

Dear Markz,

It would be a Pleasure and honor for you to Partake in this Momentous group that Might get me saying Mincha once in a while, and Practically speaking you did a great job with your capitalization, but Maybe an estimated count of your Most likely impressive streak of both P and M Might inspire us here to see what we can achieve.

So consider posting a count at the end of your Post - Please. Many Praises to you nonetheless for your Magnanimous Prowess.

Another question,

say for some ones you can't daven in a minyan ie you're sick. You still allowed to mark that as an "M" if you are mekayem the Shulchan Aruch/MB's ruling of starting at the same time as a minyan?

I'll start from today.

0P 0M
