

Growing With The Chevra

Good afternoon gentlemen,

I must tell you that I have not been conducting myself appropriately for the last couple of months. I have been slipping to the point that only the most lomdeshe grobbe finger would rule not a fall. Obviously I am not happy. Now perhaps there are those that would argue that after such a significant time of not clearly falling by an obscure standard, that perhaps I should continue counting. After all, stopping a long count can have it's own repercussions. However, I have done a lot of soul searching I want to begin my count again. Of course perfection is only in Hashem's level and slips could surely come my way. However, I plan on using the forums standards and keeping them strictly. GYE leaves a little room for slips/errors and that must be enough for me.

Do not misunderstand me.

I do not look at this as a self-righteous fellow who is choosing just to be machmir. I unfortunately, have swayed too much and starting again is in my view the only way to go.

I have tweaked my home situation so that there is no internet without either an extreme filter or a code that is not known to me. I have no phone access.

My big challenge is at work. The company where I work at has a shomer shabbos head who has installed a filter in the computer. However, it is a weak filter and the IT guy told me years ago that once the history is erased they cannot retrieve your viewing sites.

I still need some hadracha in that vein.

I am in contact with someone on the phone and our dialogues are honest and helpful.

I plan to participate more on the forum.

I sit here with mixed emotions. I am sorry that I haven't lived up to the standards I should have but I am very excited to start fresh with a truly legitimate count.

My economic hurdle continues. B"H I am clean.

Less pressure today to look for "fake comfort" in the forbidden fruit.

Every single time you close your eyes from watching what's wrong you become the immediate recipient of a miracle. Keep on trucking and the miracles will start pouring on to you bringing ???

You weren't very clear. Which forbidden fruit?

If it's your chavrusa's wallet, please control yourself... Stealing isn't a game you know.

Amen. May they pour in for all of us.

Much appreciated.

The forbidden fruit is inappropriate gazing.

Need I say more?

In Parshas Bechukosy, the Or Hachaim Hakadosh writes that for the individual Jew(as opposed to the community as a whole) if you see there is a lack of funds it means there is not enough learning.

That's what it means when it says: "Eyn Kemach, Eyn Torah"

There is not enough Kemach- Eyn Kemach?

That's because there is not enough Torah - eyn Torah

Needless to say, bli neder, I am trying to learn more

Today I had some anxiety. Certain issues came together and the result caused me to think that if only I indulge in some of the forbidden stuff, I'll be comforted.

Hashem helped me and I didn't do it.

Later in the day I again felt this anxiety. I remembered the challenge I had earlier on and the fact I didn't act out.

I sat back and a warm, deep seated comforting feeling enveloped me.

Everytime I seem to get to a dramatic milestone in my life - that could bring about much Beracha - like a new job etc. I find myself being particularly challenged to look at the shmutz.

I then wonder: Maybe its because of it being a time of anxiety.

Maybe it has to do with the idea of being zoche for the new good situation

Then again, maybe I shouldn't even wonder.

Just KOT - Just do what works for me to be sober and let G-d take over the results.

I have a talent for jumping to conclusions when I see certain new events and decide that NOW Hashem will force my wife to provide me with whatever I want. Then soon after reality hits home.

Which reality hits home?

That I made it up in my mind in order to pleasure myself.
