

GYE Chat Room...

Posted by Ineedhelp!! - 06 Dec 2009 15:27

This is a time where I feel like a GYE Chat Room would be so usefull. I am so bored and sitting at my computer. I am reading posts of people but they are kinda boring to be honest. Any advancements on that?

Next guy to pledge $100 for chat room... I'll match it...

(P.s. I'll match you even if you pledge to match another guy's $100... but that other guy has to either pledge or pledge to match....)

We're having some trouble with the paypal account again. We hope it will be resolved within 48 hours.

Guys, I appreciate your pledges, but the problem is that good chat-rooms require java support, and our current server doesn't support Java. We are embarking on a serious fund raising campaign in the coming months and we hope to raise some big money to change servers, update the entire forum and websites, and include some great chat room features as well. So hold tight, it is high on our priorities.

An e-mail about our fund-raising plans will be sent in the coming days, be"n.

Patience, patience. GYE is investing in a complete overhaul of the website, and my understanding is that a chatroom will be part of it.

Some of the 'Just Having Fun' threads & the 'Hi' thread (which also belong over there) serve this purpose somewhat.

Another option is to use gmail's chat feature. many people can join a running chat. We would need to set up a new gmail account gyechatroom@gmail.com & anyone can join the fun!!!!
