

thank you!!!!

Posted by higher - 17 Oct 2018 01:21

Hi im higher!

This thread is about hakaras hatov. many yidden here have been through really rough times and have been helped by Hashem through gye in general but more specifically the special people that they connected with who helped them realize that they are greater than they make themselves to be.

that they can succeed in lifes challanges and become better people.

they deserve our thanks.

they may hide in code names and joke around and present themselves as one of the many members.

they care.

they connect.

they empathize.

they offer practical advice.

they daven for those in need.

they are heroes.

Hashem.

a side note.

this isnt meant to be a place where you have to introduce yourself.

bear in mind that this thread is not in the bablebatim thread as well.
