---

I just realized that my filters down for whatever reason. I am going off of PC now and will bl'n not log on again until the filter is active again which will be some time tomm morning. I hope that posting this on a public forum will create an accountability factor. Expect to hear from me tommorrow before noon that the filter is back on and that i'm clean.

Thanks everyone!

B"h filters back up and working!!

Thanks GYE for providing this platform which gave me enough accountability to resist any temptation that I might have had.
