

I can do whatever I want for the next 3 hours
Posted by Drunk and Irish - 15 Jul 2020 18:13

I am struggling right now. I have an unfiltered tablet and can do whatever I want for the next 3 hours

You've posted here, so it seems clear that you really don't want to have a fall. Maybe put that tablet high up on a shelf or somewhere where it will be difficult to get to like behind something heavy...it other words, make the choice to use it for pmo as difficult as possible. And if you can, take a walk outside.

The only way to be safe is to separate yourself from it asap!!! Leave the house...call someone...if not you may win for a while but we all know what happens even after being strong...the temptation is too strong. Yichud is assur even for an 80 year old man and an 80 year old woman. Desire can make both of them seem way younger. Dont be meyached with the tablet. If you win you will feel amazing. If you lose you will feel like garbage. You have an opportunity not only to not fall but to win! To gain a positive aspect!!! Last time you fell did the pleasure outweigh the pain and remorse?!? I think not!

Commit to posting here what happens. To let us know if you succeed or chsv"sh fall. Hopefully it will be a deterrent.

I already have a rash that is making my arm itchy and uncomfortable so I have a right to slash it up with a knife. Or should I just amputate?

P without M is such a pain in the.....

Mazal tov! Unless I'm mistaken and I don't believe I am you feel amazing, proud, happy and in control (as you should!). Now try to internalize this feeling and arm yourself with it during the next battle.

Im honored to have witnessed this. I don't know if I would've succeeded as you have. Thank you for the chizuk! May you be zoche to one after another for the rest of your life!

Wow! that was amazing. It was worth it for GYE to have been created just for this.

Grant - you are a hero for cheering him on.
