I have been struggling for a while with masterbation for a while thankfully it is mainly in one situation. Only in bed i come up with a fantasy in my mind of a women who loves me (im single right now) and it gets me arroused. Does anyone have any tricks that can help me deal with this. Ps cutting out things that are leading to these thoughts

Change your bedtime ritual. Krias shma al ha-mita, and have an inspirational book to read while falling asleep. If the cover of the book has a picture of a tzaddik that you respect, having that to look at is beneficial as well.

Re: Want advice Posted by bradley smith - 17 Feb 2023 05:46 Yikes that's a tough one. I dont have an answer yet and i struggle with the same thing. Except that I'm married and I fantasize about videos I have seen with women in them. Sorry I dont have what to offer other than a shoulder to cry on and the knowledge that you aint alone on this one. The bed is definitely a place where our good friend the yetzer hara has home advantage. I have found, though, that when I go to bed when I'm really tired, I fall asleep before my mind goes anywhere! But you gotta be reeeeeeaaaaally tired. Let me know if you find something that works, my friend. ______ ==== Re: Want advice Posted by excellence - 20 Feb 2023 15:28
