

Chazon Yeshayahu

Hi friends!

I havent posted anything substantial in a while. My low self-esteem is getting the better of me and convincing me that I don't matter and nothing I have to say makes a difference to anyone anyway. So let's see if I can break out of it here by posting from time to time on this new thread. I guess it's similar to "Grant's rants" (he didn't copyright that concept, did he?)

Looking forward to hearing from myself!!

My friend, Yeshayahu, beautiful story! I'm taking your question as absolutely rhetorical, as you want us to ponder and realize what you realized with utter clarity, that Hashem loves you always and forever with boundless, endless love. He let you know that He was unhappy with what you did, and the moment you heard the message He said "MY beloved Yeshayahu, of course you can have your hand back!!!"

If I may suggest, journal this moment. And read it often. To remember Hashem's endless love for you. And your love to Him

My friend, keep trucking!

"....??? ?? ????? ?????? ?????? ????? ???"

Dear Yeshayahu,

Many friends here are wondering, what ever became of your fascinating story?

Alas, we are left high n' dry...
