I didnt mean to say that I'm trying to eliminate the desire...but to channel it into something holy.
We aren't Catholic priests here...celibacy isn't the solution! That wasn't what I was trying to say.
But since I am unmarried, I'm just trying to control my desires and not have my desires control me and lead me to sin.

Thank-you for your reply! I will try and live with that, do the same rules apply to gentiles too? I would (will) rather go with the kosher ones of course... ... just interested if there are differences !
