

Kosher phone w parents

Posted by Yitz18 - 03 Aug 2023 03:54

---

I am transitioning from a MO yeshiva in Eretz Yisroel to a mainstream yeshivish beis medrash in America. they recently sent out the guidelines for the zman with a nice few paragraphs about the dangers of smart phones, and how they strongly discourage them, and that if we will have them they will be TAGged by the yeshiva. I of course sadly know how correct the yeshiva is. My parents are modern and this is completely foreign to them. Is there any article online that speaks about the advantages of not having a smartphone, or of having a kosher phone, in a more positive view that would speak nicely to them? Maybe something from like rav Lopiansky or Rav Keleman? Thank you!

=====

=====

Re: Kosher phone w parents

Posted by lionking - 03 Aug 2023 10:49

---

There is a none Jewish company called techless, they make phones which are locked down. They have a nice blog and articles which describes the benefits of not having a smartphone in a more positive way.

Hatzlacha Rabba

=====

=====

Re: Kosher phone w parents

Posted by Shteeble - 03 Aug 2023 13:52

---

Maybe call Oorah, and ask them. This has to be a specialty of theirs.

=====

=====

Re: Kosher phone w parents

Posted by chaimoigen - 03 Aug 2023 14:38

---

There are a ton of resources on this. I'll PM you some later.

=====

---

====