

GYE Flip Phone App

Posted by iwannalivereal - 15 Oct 2023 14:58

Hey all

GYE has an app available in the app store that can be run on a smartphone. I have recently figured out how to install it on my flip phone - a kyocera, and have tested it on an LG exalt flip phone as well.

As a disclaimer the app on the flip phone is kinda hard to use and can be frustrating and slow. The app does not have the flight 2 freedom program on it, so the main function would be the forum, private messages and the articles features.

Installing it on a flip phone is not the easiest and it'd be hard for me to describe how to do it, however if you already have any apps that you had put on for you (waze etc.) it's pretty easy to do. Also it's almost impossible to use without having a mouse/cursor previously installed, as well as voice commands.

Although kinda klutzy to use, I'm imagining that it can be useful for many. Anyone who doesn't need internet on a regular basis, or who doesn't have internet at all on a daily basis but would like to have some basic access to GYE might want to look into getting the app on a flip.

If you are interested in the app please respond on the forum, and if there seems to be an interest I can try to upload the app to be available for downloads with installation instructions.

When you go to the forum if you click on the "gye" on the top left corner, you can get to the f2f program from there

I would love to put that app on my flip phone (I would probably need to buy a new one as my phone has Purifone installed already).

Please tell me more!!!
