I know I've often posting about my issues but I'm very curious what it is like for you guys. Seems like a lot of the people here are much more experienced, but maybe if I have some idea of what things were like in the past, I could have a better idea of how I can orient myself for the future.

In the past we used to get stoned and watch the radio.

You can read through the threads of the people with experience who are posting. Some of them have it posted in their signature under their posts. Others you would have to ask on the forum or ask someone who is on for a while and might know or ask the people posting in private messages about their threads. We each have different stories with many similarities. None of us were glimmering when we started out. We can relate all too well to what other people are going through because we have been there.
