

Huge milestone reached - 500 DAYS CLEAN BH

Posted by ytw - 20 Mar 2024 04:56

Hi everyone, I wanted to share my Simcheh with you and invite you to the virtual l'chaim that will take place in Anyplace NY. Buses will leave your local newsstand an hour before arriving... Let's drink together and wish each other brachos l'roiv.

On a serious note, I wanted to thank GYE and the whole GYE community for helping me reach 500 clean days. I'd also like to give a special thanks to the two angels from GYE, @HHM, and @ChaimMod, who were there for me every step of my journey, holding my hand when the going was tough (or after a fall) and celebrating my wins together.

Now, a word to my fellow GYE community members: the reason I'm sharing my win here (except for the fact that I like to get compliments...) is so that you should know that it's possible. I'm not saying that it was easy, but I am saying that it's possible. As my motto goes, "It is not easy, but it's great, and we strive for greatness, not for easiness." So I'm going out with a call to all my fellow friends here. Who wants to join the path to freedom? Let's try to create a group starting the journey of staying clean till Pesach. Food and inspiration in us... Registration will take place at the l'chaim at the corner of ytw.gye@gmail.com...

LET'S DO THIS. LET'S BREAK HISTORY.

Your fellow GYE'er,

Ytw

=====

Re: Huge milestone reached - 500 DAYS CLEAN BH

Posted by chaimmod - 20 Mar 2024 13:06

ytw wrote on 20 Mar 2024 04:56:

Hi everyone, I wanted to share my Simcheh with you and invite you to the virtual l'chaim that will take place in Anyplace NY. Buses will leave your local newsstand an hour before arriving... Let's drink together and wish each other brachos l'roiv.

On a serious note, I wanted to thank GYE and the whole GYE community for helping me reach 500 clean days. I'd also like to give a special thanks to the two angels from GYE, @HHM, and @ChaimMod, who were there for me every step of my journey, holding my hand when the going was tough (or after a fall) and celebrating my wins together.

Now, a word to my fellow GYE community members: the reason I'm sharing my win here (except for the fact that I like to get compliments...) is so that you should know that it's possible. I'm not saying that it was easy, but I am saying that it's possible. As my motto goes, "It is not easy, but it's great, and we strive for greatness, not for easiness." So I'm going out with a call to all my fellow friends here. Who wants to join the path to freedom? Let's try to create a group starting the journey of staying clean till Pesach. Food and inspiration in us... Registration will take place at the l'chaim at the corner of ytw.gye@gmail.com...

LET'S DO THIS. LET'S BREAK HISTORY.

Your fellow GYE'er,

Ytw

Thank you for the kind words. You're a true role model that others can learn from. Hard work pays off. We hope that you will keep up the amazing progress and keep on inspiring klal yisroel!

=====
=====