I got to try out in real time, and it is currently working wonders. There is a wonderful person here who has been doing his own work of spreading awareness of what GYE has to offer. He's been doing so in BMG. And got over 20 calls from people wanting to know more. A few days ago a guy called, but this was someone who our tzaddik was uncomfortable speaking to. He asked me if I could call this yungerman back. Which I did. I got to know a really special yungerman, a real ben Torah, who's been struggling for years all alone. Has hardly heard about GYE, and had no idea what it's like. And he has no regular access to internet. He still has enough to struggle with, unfortunately. And I have had the zechus of guiding him, of showing him how he can get past all these behaviors. He's BH on fire and I daven he'll keep soaring. My friends, Hashem gave me taste of what it would be like to help people that don't know the culture here, that haven't read any threads, that don't know about the F2F program, and most importantly, that don't know there is a way out.

And we can change that.

Again, please share your thoughts. ?????? ???? ????

Someone just emailed this to me... what does the oilam think???

Hi. I'm very impressed with your eagerness and willingness to help others, which is also a great tikun.

I just took down your new sign again, and since there was a note asking not to take it down, I'll try to explain a drop.

Even though the original sign also made me wonder whether it should be hanging in yeshiva, ??' ??? ?": ????" ?' ??" ??"?, I didn't want to take advantage of maybe holding back help from someone, and stuck to

?? ??? ????

But a sign stating that 40 bnei yeshiva called for help definitely shouldn't be hanging for various reasons, one of them being chilul hashem (even if no one sends it to the whole world via social media as often happens with signs in yeshiva), and other reasons as well.

Kol Tuv!

I know many others have said the same thing already, but I can't help but echo: this is the definition of a ??? ???.

This guy (who seems to be pretty well-intentioned and respectful, to his credit, but as I said in an earlier post, is sadly locked into the "let's pretend this problem doesn't exist" mentality) sees a sign trying to help others with breaking free from hell, which (in what is clearly meant to make those struggling realize that they are not alone in this fight) states that over 40 other Bochorim called for help--and instead of his reaction being "Wow! ?? ??? ????-look how many Bochorim are trying to break free from this filth, and are trying to serve Hashem ???, ????? ????!", it's "Oy! How can someone state that 40 Bochorim are struggling with this? It's a Chilul Hashem!"-incredible how such an empty, blind, stupid (forgive the strong terms, but it really is a destructive attitude) mindset is so common in certain areas.

I honestly don't know whether to laugh or cry. However, as many others have already said, B"H, the vast majority of Rabbonim realize that this thought-process is just idiocy.

We should be Zoche to go ???? and the ????? should keep on spreading!

B'Hatzlacha!

This is a fatal flaw. When someone thinks their all high and mighty with zero flaws it can come to a point where if there is a problem they push it down in the dark so they can still feel the fantasy of being flawless. In the end this becomes the downfall of the person.

This unfortunately is the mindset of us as a Jewish nation. We have more problems than just lust addiction in our communities that are being pushed down and not dealt with.

BH you all are not getting knocked down by these ppl that are trying to hold up the fantasy of perfection and hopefully we will see mass results (it's already massive to help even 1 person for 1 day with this) come to fruition sooner rather than later.

Thank You!

Thanks a lot for your response. The truth is I have that pamphlet [ed: The Battle of the generation] for a while. I came across it in a store and it looked interesting. The problem is finding a good time to read it without people around. Secondly when I was struggling with watching a couple months back I reached out to guard your eyes and they hooked me up with an amazing person [ed: here here!!!] who have me a lot of his time and rewarded me somewhat for being clean. The problem now is that I am back to masturbation and I think it's the worst I was ever, regarding how often I am doing it. And when I spoke to him for practical guidance I felt a little dumb telling him how bad I am doing, after he put so much time into me. So when he would tell me you used to have sex on your head all the time and now you don't I would just nod my head and not say anything even though I still have the desire to the 10th power. That's why when I saw your sign on the wall of the elevator I figured I may as well try my luck with you. Especially that you went through it for a long time and I don't have to feel guilty at all reaching out to you. Thanks a lot for hearing me out. I guess practically speaking you are saying I should set a side a time to read that book.

IWLR You are a legend!

And here it is, a response from the tzadik hador, the one who is moser nefesh for kiddush sheim shamayim etc. etc. - all rise!

Hi

I discussed it with talmidei chachomim.

They feel that if so many people reached out to you without you advertising shortcomings of bnei yeshivah, then what's the need for the chilul hashem? Leave out that line.

Thank you.

Edit: Just to clarify this is the paragraph that he didn't like, the letters in bold were added in the most recent round and were not on the sign the first two times I hung it up.

If my story sounds at all familiar, you should know that you are not alone. There are unfortunately many chashuve bnei torah that I know personally (including the 40 plus people from yeshiva that have reached out to me since I started hanging these signs...), and probably many more that I don't know about, that struggle with these inyanim.

Guys let's tone down the rhetoric on both sides of the aisle whether you're MAGA or on the andere zeit.

People don't like to change.
