This has been something which has been on my mind since becoming active on the gye website. Is gye strictly for addicts? i understand it is extremely helpful for people who are addicts, but is it solely for them? I have gotten the feeling many times that just because i am here makes me an addict. i dont think im an addict. The filter gaabai is on my case because i watch movies. So what? i like movies. Dont start with this "fishman goes to the movies" garbage. To bad he got stuck at a really bad movie. tsk tsk so sorry to hear that. The filter gaabi starts saying "movies its really not good for an addict ect ect." i dont think because i like the gye website and i have something to gain doesn't make me a addict.

Whats you opinion?
