

Help!

Posted by pomegranate - 15 May 2025 05:39

I've fallen 3 days in a row after 65 clean days because I can get access to google maps on someone else's device. I'm sorry for letting down my family and everyone here.

I'm trying to understand why somewhere along the line on the way to a fall, my mind gets convinced even without any physical urges that this is something I have no control over and that I have to give in to. At the same time I know this isn't true. What is going on with me?

Hope to share good news with everyone tomorrow and wish everyone Hatzlocho but I don't know how this is going to change at the moment.

the main thing is get up after the fall and not let the YH use it as a tool to keep you in that trap.

its worth listening to this Shiur from R' Shimon Spitzer which sums it up really well.

Check out episode: ?????? ?????? ?????? ??? ?????? ??? ??? ?????? ?????? ??? ?????? @ @Havineini?

From my experience counting clean days by itself isn't a long term solution. It must be done together with daily inner work. Have you read the book "The Battle of the Genration" yet? Or is there any sefer or book that speaks to you?

Wishing you tremendous Hatzlacha!

Don't get to bogged down by the fall, over the last few days you've definitely made more decisions to overcome then to fall. You've got the upper hand over the YH!!

Bh Hashem it's day 9.

What's the right perspective on wasting time trying to get round filters without actually falling. It probably means that I would have fallen had I succeeded to get through the filter. That probably means I'm not getting to the route of my problem. How do I work on myself so that I shouldn't even try to bypass filters.

I've fallen again, this time at work when I was alone.

I'm struggling to understand myself. I've managed in this situation before. The setback chain hasn't enlightened me this time.
