

Emergency Tehillim for a Dangerously Ill Young Woman

Posted by Steve - 13 Jan 2010 15:47

Hi everybody.

A niece of mine in Eretz Yisroel has a best friend who has just been hospitalized due to VERY LOW BLOOD COUNTS in just about everything. The Doctors do not know what it could be. But she is in very grave danger. Her family in America, who just returned from visiting her there, are turning around and getting right back onto a plane to go back to her bedside. This is a young, unmarried girl in her mid 20's.

PLEASE SAY TEHILLIM ASAP FOR RIVKA AYALA BAS ALIZA, may she have a refuah shelayma b'korov!!

I will bli neder keep the olam posted. Guys, please add her name to your shul's Mishaberach list, and if your tzibbur allows tehillim b'rabbim for cholim after shachris and mincha, please include her name.

Tizku L'Mitzvos,

Steve

CORRECTION: I got the wrong name for tehillim. Her first name is REVA, not Rivka.

So....

PLEASE CONTINUE TO SAY TEHILLIM ASAP FOR REVA AYALA BAS ALIZA, may she have a refuah shelayma b'korov!!

I'm told I was given some misinformation, and she really IS married. I'm also told there's a facebook page about her struggles. I have no idea, I don't do facebook.

Apparently, she is going to need our tefillos for quite some time. So please keep her in mind, b'soch kol choleh yisrael.

Thanx, and Tizku L'Mitzvos!
