OK, I'm confused, too...do you mean triple digits?

Or did you mean to ask whether or not guys with stupid wives have more trouble (and wives with stupid guys, as well)?

I really think we should have a separate private forum for this discussion, not to exclude anyone, just that some of the more intelligent people in the forum are going to feel uncomfortable posting as they might offend or confuse the more dense members ( I see its happening already).

you're right. you can follow this important thread on the highly exclusive "Baaley Brains Mit Frauen mit an shvacheh kup" Forum.

I suggest you PIM guard immediately after you get your membership from mensa (card carrying, actually)

Sorry. I'm not behaving.

I will play nice.

But really, do you think guys with Iranian wives have an easier time? Or how about people who actually are married to squirrels? You know, when you need to go to a vet for marriage counseling? "Most relationship issues can be solved with walnuts..."

Sorry, it's jsut the addict poking fun at himself. Don't mind him.

Pass the nuts.

Poke, poke... :D

I think the question about attractive wives is an important one, though - sometimes guys think
Sorry guard. time for rehab
What g...

Plus, I think it was important for single guys to hear it, and have a chance to discuss - and as always, a chance for me to air my opinions ;D

Actually, I'm married, and it was a very important discussion for me as well. It's just us trying to crack our addiction thinking. I'm still allowed to poke fun.

Is "cracking" our addiction thinking another nut reference? Personally, I'm too lazy - I get the nuts without shells...mixed nuts, generally. yep, that's right, no mechitza! I should really talk to CVS about the kinds of nuts they have...

i always thought this referred to social status not intellect...

It probably means both. The idea is for the wife to look up to her husband (wondering how many cynical remarks this comment will generate).
