hi to continue my story I travel twice a month to miami as that is werre my daughter lives with her mother I go once down and up (usally in the same day) and then a week later to bing her back. this time is usally very hard as it is upsetting to give my daughter back and not get to see herr for another month as well it is very hard to walk around the airport without having wrong toughts baruch hashem I have not acted on them and am usally able to get them out of my head very quickly. as any one that goes down there knows it is impossible to avoid seeing people dressed in a not tzinus manner. I usaly take off my glasses if I think I extra protection for my eyes. Any one have any other advise I am brining my daughter back tomorow nigh and baruch hashem I am turning around and flying out approx 2 hours after I land in Miami. thank you
