This is a question for the guard mostly but i am curious if other people could use this to there advantage. is it OK if we use the wall of honor for other addictions besides the pn addiction? what i mean is for me i would put up a separate account for specifically not wasting time on the internet. we could create our own personal guidelines that apply to just that person, my guidelines would be no surfing the internet during ____ time and ____ time.

You may need to learn not to spend time on the internet for your porn addiction. I did. Internet is the gateway to porn. Avoiding it is the only I can be safe.
