

The mouse being honest

Posted by an honest mouse - 12 Apr 2010 13:31

I had been 21 days clean till friday then i fell and i just fell again, I was doing so well, looking forward to being back with my wife after nearly a year without being with her properly (coz of sickness during pregnancy and post pregnancy), i should've been clean for nearly a month when the time comes but i blew it and I feel really bad about it.

as soon as pesach finished and the summer came i felt like a protective shield had been removed, i felt exposed and vulnerable and now i've fallen lower than I have for a while. How do i get started over again ? pesach and long cleanliness for my wife where incentives which I've lost.

some thoughts and chizuk would be greatly appreciated, thanks!

p.s just posting here and knowing that others are tackling this problem too is really helpful, thanks to you all!

ok I spilled my guts. I felt absolutely incredible for a little while, unburdened, free, connected with likeminded people, but now life went back to normal...

I keep finding myself in a vicious circle and I try and let go of it but I'm having trouble:

1) My job is ending is less than a month and I don't have anything else lined up, I'm seeing if some people can take me on and I will find out in the next couple of days and it I'm tense and nervous...

2) (subcontiously) I'm tense and nervous = I'm more sensitive to acting out, I feel the urge all the time, i just want to escape it all...

3) but that is what got me into this mess in the 1st place, i dont concentrate on my work and i escape... i cant do that anymore...

4) but I cant stop, how will I ever hold down a job and get some steady parnosoh...

5) need to act out...

6) cant...

7) aaagggghhh!!!!

Just sharing what's in my head....

Thanks for sharing. I hear where you're coming from. Remember its actions, not thoughts, that count.

hi AHM,

i feel for you.

Maccabee said a great thing. actions are what count now, do something good, take good steps.
our mind is sometimes our enemy.

wishing you the best.

I assume you have already tried setting for yourself frequent mini-breaks. (i.e. every 10-15 minutes)...
