

BUZZ FROM GOOGLE AND CHATS

Hi GYE Group

I'm watching out from Chatrooms and other bad sites but,does anybody have any idea how to rid myself of Google Buzz. I am still addicted to listen in how others chat and of course females.

This is my outlet still doing the internet chatting there. I keep on erasing my profile only to establish another one the next day. I need help. Can anybody relate to this?

Think of the word "buzz" as an electrical socket. Everytime you stick your finger in the socket you get a jolt of electricity. This jolt of electricity sends messages to your brain that the only way to stop the surge of pain is to keep sticking your finger in the socket so the jolts keep coming and numbs your brain until it is mush. Voyerism in chat rooms is a slippery slope which leads to far worse. I know people who have divorced because the wife found the husband texting over 2000 times in a 3 month period. (not a GYE example) Not to mention the stories of people meeting each other.... you know the rest.

This is a progressive disease and we have come to the crossroads of making a choice. SERENITY VS. PAIN. It's your choice. Choose wisely. Jolts of electricity kill.

Thanks Elya for your warm reply. I know it can lead to worse things C"V. I'm just addicted to it and that brings me into worser things on the net if i don't find it in the Chatrooms. I'm not looking for shmutts but just some chatting but in the end i get in trouble . I thought Buzz may be a solution but i find it to be as bad as a chatroom.

Chatting is terrible in all ways, it kills my day and my living, parnussa etc ..

How does that get done by K9?

I can't access it or any other chat or social networking site due to that darn K9 thing, not even to impartially educate myself as to what he was talking about ;D.

Me3, when you try to access BUZZ, under what category does K9 say it is blocked under? It may not be considered what you think it is....
