Hi Everyone,

I have not posted for a while. I have had a very rough few months, constantly falling. I have come to the conclusion that my only hope is to join an SA group, but I am not sure how to go about it. I live in Yerushalayim and I would appreciate it if anyone here who has participated SA there, could pm me and tell me how to go about it.

Thanks

Don't know, but I wish you luck - hope you stay here with us, too!

The fact that you're taking this step forward is a good thing. You've accepted the issue, accepted that you need more help, and are working towards getting it. That is a victory all by itself!
