yechida's reflections Posted by yechidah - 29 Jun 2009 19:47

(any questions, insights & suggestions about this thread, feel free to email me at taryaga@gmail.com)

There are many reasons we need to be where we are and who we are,most are unknown. Why do we even have to be in a situation or have in our soul so much darkness and a pull toward self-destructing negative behaviors?

I saw once an amazing thought in a sefer. Moshe Rabeinu came from a union that after the Torah was given would have deemed him a mamzer (parents being an aunt & nephew). He could not boast of his lineage. This is one reason that let him be the greatest Anov that ever lived.

We who have to deal with the stuff that's in us that we would rather not have in the first placethis pain and shame over the course of time -makes us realize that even when we b'ezras Hashem pull out of the addictions-we will never look at another Yid that is struggling with this in a negative way

We catch a Yid looking where he shouldn't be looking and our hearts are full of compassion. We will daven for him, treat him with respect, gently try to get him out of it. We would never disgrace him-not even in our hearts-because we were there. We know what it's like. In our eyes he is a potential tzaddik.

This is surely one reason Hashem gave us this urge towards baseness with all it's shades of ugliness. Yes you are special-like every Yid is-but never ever judge harshly My son or daughter that is struggling-because I love him or her - he or she is part of Klall Yisroel. Just as indispensible as you are.

To your wife

Of this powerful title

That Chazal has given

A lot of the Inflow of Rachamim

Into the world
Is in our own hands
The key is with us
We can connect our soul
To the Av HaRachamim
By conducting ourselves
With this middah of Rachamim
Compassion towards
Our brother & sisters
As well as ourselves
The Compassion within us
Spreading to the world
Opens the Channel of Compassion Above
To overflow upon us
In an everlasting abundance
So that we can see
With our own eyes
The Source of all Compassion
For that is when
The world will be healed.

Re: yechida's reflections Posted by yechidah - 10 Feb 2011 14:03 This one is more directly GYE related: The Greatest Anecdote To unhealthy desires Is True Inner Joy Food, sex, alcohol, gambling Are escapes To fill An empty inner void With inner joy You eat food when hungry Drink water As the body needs it Directing the urge for sex Towards Your life's soul mate With a heart full of gratitude Towards her whom He has given you

Money is used as a means For a higher purpose Not as an end unto itself So here lies the great secret God does not wish to deny us Life's pleasures He has no problem With us asking Him for it either But what He wants us to do Is see Him

Know Him

Be grateful to Him

Via the first and pleasures

He has given you

The Sun is worshipped

By idolators

While we perceive God

Via the Sun

Its warmth, light, and energy

As a gift from Him

To the world
This is how we Need to learn
To view this physical world,
Our bodies,
And every delight and pleasure
That exists in the world
External Beauty
Always needs to reflect
And represent
Inner Beauty
Which is the Godliness within
The physical aspects
That you are seeing
For by holding unto
The External aspects
Alone
That desperate grasping
Of the outer life
Will kill you

Long Winters
When no growth
Is seen
Dark, dead days
But that is the furthest
From the truth
For great growth is Occurring
Beneath the surface
Not to be seen
Until Spring
So don't underestimate
The great power
Of Long Winters

It is then
When the greatest transformations
Quietly and modestly
Take place

Have a wonderful Shabbos my friends
Here are 3 short ones:
1
The inner purpose
Of all discouragement
Is to weaken
Each one of us
So as not to fulfill
Our mission in this world
For which we have been sent
From Above

Loneliness
Is the soul's yearning
To connect with its
Other missing parts
The soul that his root
Is connected to 3
Physical Charity
Is with money
Spiritual Charity
Is the giving
Of the gifts
Of your Soul

Birchas Hamozon-check.

Now I learned Hilchos Shabbos and I need to learn it again. And as the Mishna Berurah writes in the introduction there that one must always review these laws. So don't think that I do not take Halacha pretty seriously.

And yet, even a Shabbos Tish in accordance to Halacha could be Hell. It can be fully devoid of any life and of any empathy, being more like a well oiled machine with nothing there. There is an undercurrent of unhappiness present. The wife is slaving away but is barely noticed. Unless there is something wrong with the kugel. Or the chicken was somewhat burnt and the chusheva guest may notice.

This is, of course, just one specific example that may not apply to you or your household

But what is a common thread in our communities is that the true gift of Shabbos has been lost and forgotten

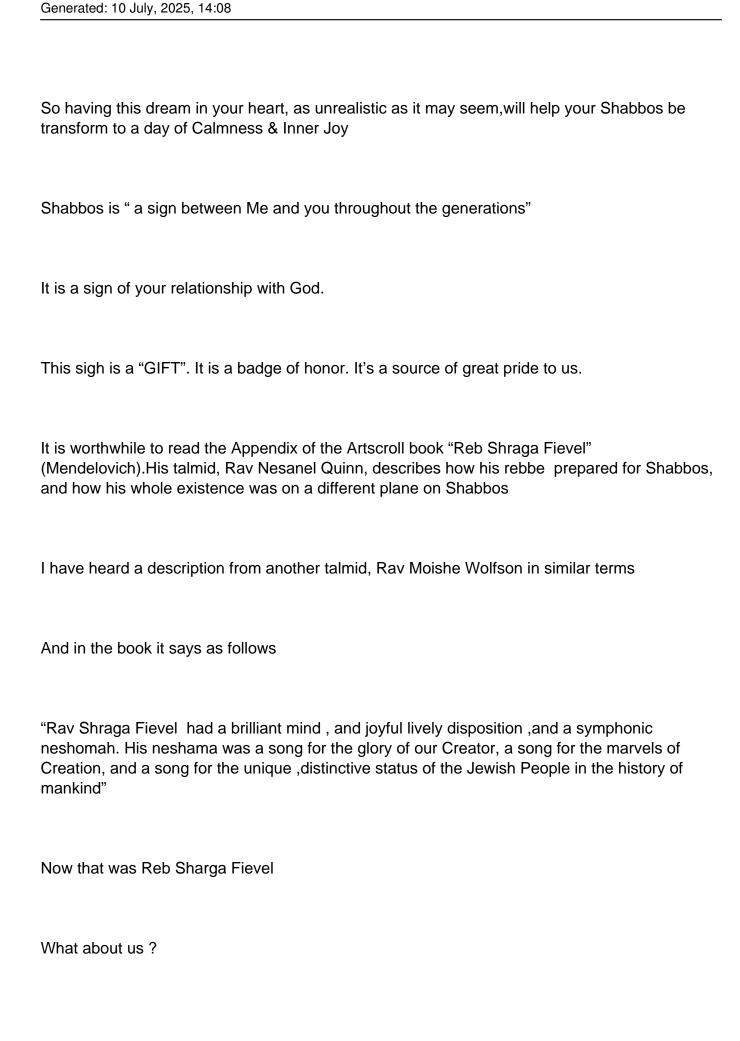

Let's now discuss the World of Shabbos.

It would be an impossible task for me to do justice to this topic, but lets try to get a little taste of this World of Shabbos and see if we can try to enter into it.

Before we begin we need to temper this description with some realism. Especially for those who don't have the luxury to take Friday afternoon naps. Especially for those that are exhausted from a full week of hard work and stress.

And yet the powerful yearning for the World of Shabbos needs to be a goal

As I heard a quote from Zelig Pliskin "when you stretch our your arms and reach for the stars, you may not touch them, but at least your hands won't get stuck in the mud"

Every person, on his or her level, has a much deeper connection to the Creator on Shabbos. Its more deeply felt. It's s gift to us. All of us.

It is true. A big focus of the laws of Shabbos is what we cannot do.

And yet, the greatest gift of Shabbos is what we can so. What we can feel. What we can see. You can use the power of imagination that God has given you to aid you. Who says imagination is always negative? It's there to be used for positive purposes. It's a gift!! Look around!! It's a different world on Shabbos!! The sun doesn't look quite the same, It's a Shabbos Sun!!! The streets are Shabbos streets, the home is a Shabbos home, you wife is a Shabbos wife, your children are Shabbos children, the nesomah yeseirah there, it is real and it is there!!! Look and you will see more kedushah there. You may have tasted the chulent Thursday night, but on Shabbos it tastes the taste of Shabbos. Your bed is Shabbosdik. Your clothing are Shabbosdik, Hashem's presence is more palpable. More easily felt. So that the work restrictions do not chain you down. It frees your soul!!! allows it to express itself, to sing, to pray. You can't say Nishmas on a plain old Tuesday morning. It just doesn't feel like Nishmas. Same words, but its not the same. On Shabbos-Now that's a Nishmas!!!

The Fridays are getting longer, try to rest. If you know you can't ,try to go to sleep earlier on Thursday night.

If youre too exhausted on Friday night, don't lose heart.

Get a good night's rest on Friday night and the light of Shabbos will be felt in the morning. If this Shabbos didn't go as well as expected, there is always the new opportunity of the upcoming Shabbos.

Learn things you enjoy, try "Siduro Shel Shabbos" that will aid to the special feeling of Shabbos. Sing Zemiros, or any niggun you enjoy. Your tired Shabbos afternoon?, then take a nap, rest, and take with you a story about tzaddikim. When the days get warmer, take a walk with your wife in neighborhoods where it is very residential and pleasant. Talk about pleasant things, nice thing, joyful things no we need to take care of this or that.

beautiful

thanks for sharing that

For those that practice Hisbodidus (Talking privately to God in your own words), Shabbos is a beautiful time to do so. Especially as the days get longer. If something is bothering you, certainly, pour your heart out to Him. But also it is a great time to give thanks to the pleasures and blessings of your life.

It is also a time you can repair your relationship with your wife and children. Little by little. You have time to talk to your wife and listen to her. And it makes no difference whether she is a niddah then or not. Shabbos is a time where the inner Kesher between the two of you can be enhanced greatly. As important as it is to have Orchim, it has to be balanced with having a peaceful and less stressful home. If it's too hard on your wife, don't invite guests. Let your wife be your guest.

It is very important not to overstrain yourself on Shabbos. Even if you wish to learn many hours be careful that it is not of a tense nature, but of a joyful one.
Rest your mind.
You have time to think more slowly, less intensely, and this type of thinking is extremely powerful
It's a time to think about Emunah and Bitachon and Hashgacha Peratis. May we merit to feel the true gift of Shabbos
