

Need some suggestions on award for self

Posted by eme - 02 Jul 2009 02:03

Im looking for a positive motivator, an award to myself for achieving say 10 days, or 50 days or maybe even 100. Thing is, Im having a hard time coming up with something that makes sense. Any ideas?

Schar Mitzva Be'hai Alma Leka. But think of it this way.

10 days = a lot of Keshet with Hashem and Olam Haba for all eternity

50 days = a heck of a lot of Keshet with Hashem and Olam Haba for all eternity

90 days = Freedom from the addiction in this world too. A whole new opportunity to start LIVING.

There are positive motivatos and there are consequences if you stumble. Take a $100 - stick it on the wall and tell yourself the next time you fall, that hundred dollars no longer belongs to you. Give it away - to tzedaka - to this website - or to anything you like. See if its worth it to you. Be honest with yourself.

You can do it!!!!

HATZLACHA!
