

following my biological theme, a favor/advice

Posted by strugglingandstrivngBT - 06 Oct 2010 15:48

I have a bio class with prearranged powerpoints. One of the topics (not doing it now but in a few weeks) is reproduction. The other topics have had pictures, some very triggering. I dont know if the topic has any, and dont really want to be surprised. any suggestions on a place/person to scan it and delete triggering pics safely, so that no one that would be affected negatively sees anything they shouldnt?
