lets call this a share. When you think you hit rock bottom you might find that there is another level. While rock bottom maybe the worst thing when you hit the next level you realize you change or die. This is what happened to me. I was on the calls, going to meetings it just wasn't enough. I was tempted and then I hit the real rock bottom.

The funny thing is-its completely empowering like no tomorrow. When you hit this wave-ride the wave hart because you are a new you.

I wanted to thank in advance (dov/danielle/david) for keeping me on the right path

LETS ALL CONTINUE TO FOCUS
