

Where I'm at

To whom it may concern,

My name is Uri. I live in the Jerusalem area and I am a sex and love addict. This took me a long time to come to terms with, to say the least. But that we'll get to in a second.

I am finishing now my third year in Beis Medrash. While I have had success in my learning b'h, I have a source of shame and anguish that has caused me great depression on a constant basis. I lived (live really) two lives; my yeshiva/religious life which is the source of much admiration and pride from my parents and rebbeim. And then there is my "secret life", where I spend time ranging from 10 minutes a day to almost full off days fantasizing and worse acting out of all sorts. I feel like the world's biggest hypocrite. It bothers me even more because I find sincerity and honesty of the utmost importance, and I have to stand and watch myself trample all over these traits. After several years of therapy I have recently come to the realization that basically all of my "major" issues have come from this place. I have major issues in getting close to people and keeping friends once I feel that they know me too well. I have a hard time sitting by myself due to my uncomfortability of sitting with a unsatiable sex addict (however ironic that might sound). The need creeps up all too often, followed by a crazy need to satisfy it. There are several paths to this: porn, masturbation, contact with a sexual girl, and, strangely enough, eating out at restaurants, but that we'll get to a different time. Anyway, there is one main girl, as there always is. We have had the weirdest on and off relationship, to say the least. The jealousy and overprotection I had with her is still a shock to me even. Anyway I'm tired so I shall continue this first, congrats on your successes so far. the y'h must be really upset if he is giving you such a hard time.

i wish i could tell you how beautiful and holy you are in a way that you will believe me... but from my own experience (which is similar to yours in the sense that i also have a hard time letting people in) i usually don't "buy" it when people tell me that at these moments in my life.

I will however say that you are G-d's most precious child. He made you in a certain way, He knows your trials. He's not disgusted with you, c"v.

I learned the following piece this morning in a sefer called "Likutey Etzos Meshulash":

R.Nosson of Breslov says that the mitzva of sanctifying the moon is davka when everything is (or appears) dark. That is the time when we are commanded to look for the tiniest point of light. Once the witnesses see it we can sanctify the month.

The same is true on an individual level. When everything is dark, when we think we're so low, that is when we have to look for some tiny little speck of good, a silver lining. Once we find it we're on the path of tshuva. [you have SIX days of success in your battles behind you. I'd say that qualifies as silver lining :D!!!).

Then he goes on to explain that this is the first mitzva in connection with geulas mitzrayim. HaSHem is teaching us that just as He saw us in our "blood and filth" [in Egypt, 49 shaar hatuma etc...] and was looking for some good in order to take us out, so we too must emulate His way.

May we all experience redemption(s) on every kevel, biklal ubifrat!

Stark zich brider, you're doing an awesome job!

thanks for the kind words chl.i know ur right,just really hard to feel that Hashem doesnt hate me at the moment.i actually heard beshaim Rabbi Nachman that when u feel far,its a sign that you are close.like a father who is teaching his son to walk he keeps stepping further and further away,training him.its not a sign that he doesnt want to be close.

im reading "first day" its a story on guardyoureyes.org amazing!really so deep i enjoy it immensely.highly suggested to anyone who has the time.kol tuv-uri

i am approaching the end of day 7 of sobriety thank G-d.ive spent time over the past couple days at the kosel davening to Hashem for help and hadracha and so far He has helped me.ive had a few close calls,though.to explain i must give another part of my story:

My addiction is not restricted to porn and "M".i spent my teenage years heavily involved in several unhealthy and highly sexual relationships.one stands out specifically.i went out with her for 3 years.we had sex more times during those years than guard has posts on this site.but it was deeper than just sex.we each had this deep emotional need that the other satisfied.we became seriously dependant on each other to be happy.there were several circumstances though that broke our relationship:my aliya,my becoming frum,and serval other things.but every once in a while when i became overfilled with that desperate need i would find her,set things straight,and we would usually end up having sex.this is already after i had chosen to be frum.i was in yeshiva full time,etc.but every once in a bit,i fell big time.we have been on and off talking for the past couple years now,and right now were on a "off".but i subconsciously (and sometimes conciously) keep my eyes open for her wherever i go.like i purposely pass by places where i know she frequents.this obsession goes up and down with my neediness,and right now,due to my sobriety i guess,i am a shtickle desperate.so i desire strongly to "cool myself down" ironically by heating myself up.but i will not,of course,because.....just because.Hashem should give us all koach-uri

WAY BETTER THAN THAT!

Every time we say a brochoh on a mitzvah we say "vitzivonu". Besides the simple meaning -and He commanded, it also means that He made you a shliach [like it says in the megilah ?????? ?? ~~because im better than that~~ and it means that Esther made him a shli'ach to Mordichay.] Hashem has a great plan -much greater than we can imagine and He choose you as His shliach to help implement His Master Plan.

Imagine being a shliach of the Gadol Hador or maybe of Shlomo Hamelech or Moshe Rabeinu, you wouldn't even be able to even think about anything else other than your shlichus. But you're a shliach of Hashem Himself. Try to think about it a bit...

JerusalemA+,

I sense a very great soul in you. First of all, I didn't even know you were a ba'al teshuvah until now. That alone speaks volumes of your soul's greatness. Most people are just born religious, they never had to make such great spiritual strides like you. Others have small souls with small jobs and are never given the "opportunity" to become religious. But here you are, a HUGE soul, that was able to make the jump into a world of Torah and Mitzvos. WOW. But we all know, sexual purity is the "last frontier" for great souls like yours. If you overcome this and work on this area, you will shoot up the spiritual ladder in ways you never "dreamed" were possible!

Now that you found us, Hashem has given you a HUGE hug. This is a very unique and special community, and you are being given tools here that Yidden never knew about before. Use the Handbooks, the daily Chizuk e-mails, the groups support of the forum, the phone conferences, hotlines, stories and tips... Use the site out my brother, you can do this! Hashem is with you, he is having great pleasure from your soul's journey!

Nu, install k9 FAST!

BTW. There's a last resort option on the bottom of this page:

www.guardureyes.com/GUE/Tips/TipsPractical.asp

You're still a ba'al Teshuvah if you weren't frum from 8! Obviously your soul had some serious journeys to undergo... See this story here for what I mean..

Keep strong!
