Shabbos is coming. This holy day unfortunately always throws me into depression. don't have time now to explain why, but point is its starting to set in my little brain right now.

I need support from any hands on deck at GYE. Im working on the inyun and am not gonna fix it overnight, but i just need a little friendship to keep me till motzai shabbos. Not embarrassed to say, and Im anyways gonna decide now that i wont let my feelings get out of control, hashems with me, and everything will be alright. ill be besimcha as best as i can. this isnt gonna be some amazing profound 100page thread, its just right now i need a little, yeah, you know already.

Ive gotta log off but will check later.
Help.

Hello Tzaddik90,
Just checking in. Looks like you've got quite a story.

I am also in Israel and have dealt with this feeling that a shul here isn't exactly a Cheers episode

(yeah, I know that's an old post already, but thought I'd say something anyways).
Eye.

Getting stronger. Y'know, that has always bothered me fer I know I am weak and it's precisely why i need His help so much, and I do not sense any inner strength at all when I am untroubled and able to not give lust the time of day. So what strength?
Yet here are many people talking of a feeling of strength, "Be strong" and "I am feeling stronger now" Nu?

So I found an answer be"H:

There is inner strength that is ours, and there is outer strength that is bestowed on us from outside us like a levush that is m'sayeya. (For those who are in RMCh"L and levushim for the neshomah, this will tickle you plenty.)

The strength I have is an outer garment - it is not me and it is not really mine - all I really have is my Neshomah and my flesh. All the rest is added after I was born and will be removed after I die.

My outer strength is on loan from Hashem - depending on whether I allow Him to put it on me. And for that, i must first get still and quiet - just like when you try to dress your kids. They need to stop fidgeting ("For crying out loud, just stay still a minute!!" - anybody else here ever say that here?). And I need the 3rd step and it's maintainer, the 11th step. I need to be still, calm and quiet and accept His total care. Ein laguf tov ella shtikah.

Inside, I am the same sexaholic powerless over lust and dependent on my relationship with my very own G-d. Thank-G-d for one day at a time, so that all this can remain fresh and real and not become old and forgotten, c"v.

Stay in touch buddy!

Tatty on the other hand, well -let's just say that he's seen an illustrated dictionary of that on the net...

sheifelle. Maybe it's better that way...

Dear me, I wish he would see what's happening to him and at least check into GYE

"But what does @$#&! mean, mommy?," asked the little boy. (that's me)
;D
That just means you're father is not getting dessert tonight said the mother.
