Posted by miracles - 27 Feb 2011 21:33

Hey there Chevrah,

If anyone ever wants to chat by phone, talk about a problem they are having, if you feel like your about to fall and need someone to speak to, I am here for you. My schedule is usually very hectic and I can't promise I will have a lot of time, but I would really love to talk to anyone. I think it will help if I can also talk about what I'm going through as well. So please send me a message with your name and number and ill text u my number as well.

Please guys don't hesitate, the best thing to do is share with others what your going through.

Miracles.
