

Vayimaen Messages

Posted by iyh2023 - 11 Mar 2024 15:45

Hey y'all, many of us watch the daily Vayimaen videos. They are extremely powerful and encouraging, but being that it takes about 3 minutes to watch, when the hustle bustle of the day sets in, I tend to forget the messages. With that, i would like to make a daily post, a short post, with the point of that days Vayimaen video, which will take quicker to review then watching the whole video.

If it is helpful to you, please hit "Thank you", so i can know if it is something i should continue.

Here goes todays post:

How to get true simcha:

Rabbi Nachum Binder said over from the Sfas Emes, that by beating the Y"H, we experience true simcha, and especially in the month of Adar, which is the month of Yosef H'tzadik.

Feel free to add the message you got from the videos!!

Generally speakin', we put ourselves into that dark knight.

Well that's a pretty good position to be in.

It generated over a billion (with a b) dollars at the box office.

Yesterday's Video:

If you do the right thing because you're going through a difficult time, but you do it really shelo lishma, the first thing that will happen is that you won't have a salvation, because the real reward is in the next world, and it's a setup for the next test to give you more reward (I guess?).

Then, when you are tested again and fail (because it didn't seem to work the first time), you will get whacked REAL bad, with all that potential reward whisked away in an instant without you even knowing.

I think I missed the inspirational aspect, someone please explain.

You know those guys who post for the first time in six months but it's just to complain about a

Didn't see the video but it reminds me of a piece of mussar I heard in high school that stuck with me and ruined basically every feeling of accomplishment I had (only slight exaggeration). The mussar was that sometimes the yetzer pushes you to do a big averiah but only so that he could get you to ease up a little and do something small. So like if you want to skip shachris but fight hard and come but 5 minutes late, maybe you really lost since he just wanted you to come five minutes late like you did.

So anytime you overcome a yetzer hara, instead of celebrating the wins, focus on whatever small things you did wrong and feel like a loser.

This is similar. It might be true, but just is designed to make you feel bad about every little thing you do wrong. Not sure who that would benefit.

I guess all the rest were good.

Or, at least didn't make me depressed.

I get almost daily emails from a website I created an account for before filtering my computer. I forgot to close the account before filtering and asking my filter to unblock temporarily so I can close the account is a bit risky.

These emails sometimes have images I don't want to see, I set that the pictures shouldn't only show if I click on them but still getting the email, and sometimes clicking on them is tough.

Today's Vayimaen video from R' Meshulim Feish Ginsberg made me delete the email without opening it.

Bro pm me the unsubscribe link and I'll unsubscribe for you. (I'd probably be able to see your email address if that's an issue.)

0 reason to face yourself with something you view as a struggle.

If the 'sender' is always the same, perhaps you can block them?

Beautiful, thank you for sharing!

Diamonds form under intense heat and pressure. Instead of melting or breaking, a precious gem emerges. Same for us. Precious stones in the making.

It was a tough day today at work and home, very draining. I came home with no energy but had to be a strong husband and a confident leader.

After doing most of the things I needed to do, I told my wife I was checking out. I need some space, she gave it to me. I felt the need to cry but was waiting for something to bring out.

In comes R' Nachum Binder with his Vayimaen videos called 'Your child can see'. When he said the words 'to beg, to plead, to cry' He got me, I cried and begged Hashem for 2 things I need very much.
