I have been looking over this site for the past couple of days and it seems interesting. I would like to get more connected with people.

Welcome Smilinggirl,

From your 'name' I'm assuming you are a female. We love talking to girls. But there is a separate section for women only. I think you have to PM Guard to gain access.

Actually, if you click on the Women's Forum, there's an email address there to gain access.

If I'm mistaken about your gender, then please do post away! What's on your mind?
