

hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 19 Jul 2011 04:33

I've been lurking here for a couple of months, and now it's time to introduce myself and share my story. I first would like to express my Hakoras Hatov to Hashem for giving me a second chance, and for leading me to GYE when I needed it most. Also my thanks to all of you here, who through your stories and struggles have inspired me to hang on when times are tough, and to strive to become the person that Hashem really wants me to be.

I apologize if this is a bit long-winded but I am not such a good writer and I have a lot to get off my chest. I also apologize to the mods if I get too graphic and you have to edit. So here goes....

I am in my 40's, what you would call a "working yeshivish ben torah", grew up in a small frum community, went to the "best" yeshivas, and I am B"H married with a bunch of kids K"AH. That's what everyone sees and thinks..... they don't know about my dark, secret life.

I have been struggling with SSA since my teens. Actually "struggling" is the wrong word, because until recently I was just wallowing in it. B"H I never went as far as doing it with another person, though not from lack of wanting. My natural shyness saved me many times from following through when situations presented themselves. But the looking, the fantasies, the WANTING, and the acting out with myself totally consumed my life and made me miserable even as I was enjoying the momentary pleasures.

I grew up in a small town with very few other boys my age. I am a loner type and very shy and I really didn't have friends. At Bar Mitzva age I was sent out of town to Yeshiva as there was no Yeshiva high school where I lived. I found myself even more isolated there, as most of the other boys had come in groups from larger schools and had their own circles of friends.

I had always "played with myself" even at a very young age. I had no idea what it meant or that it was wrong, just that it felt good. I guess I began using it to soothe myself more and more. At the same time, as my body matured, I found myself fascinated more and more with looking at the other boys and how they were developing. I had barely any idea what sex was at that point, and surely did not even know that there was such a thing as homosexuality. I attributed my fascination to "scientific curiosity".

At some point around the age of 15, I did MZ"L for the first time, also out of "curiosity". I cannot even begin to describe the way it was immediately addicting, probably like a first hit of cocaine (I have never done drugs). I am sure all of us here know what I am talking about. before i knew it I was doing it every chance I got, even 2-3 times a day. As I got older I realized that I was fantasizing about the other boys while I did it, and I began to realize that i had a "problem". But I couldn't stop, and there was nobody i felt close enough to talk to. So I went through life walking the walk and talking the talk, while in secret i wallowed in my sick fantasies. I learned, davened and did mitzvos, and most of the time I even believed in it, even as I knew deep inside that it was all a show and I couldn't tell anyone about what was eating me up. I would cry on Yom Kippur, promising to be good, while knowing full well that the Yetzer Hora was waiting right outside the Bais Medrash door and i probably wouldn't make it 12 hours before i did it again.

There were times when I got into situations with friends who i think had similar desires. We would be together alone and we each knew the other one wanted it. Once a friend was telling me about his bodybuilding and wanted me to feel how hard his stomach muscles were. I knew what he really wanted, and he knew that I wanted it too. My hand was literally inches from that first contact with another boy's skin. But I couldn't bring myself to make that final move. I don't know what held me back but i knew that if I took that step there was no going back. I remember literally shaking from the tension and the desire, but I pulled my hand back and said no. For years later I would fantasize about what might have been, what could have happened. Now I look back and am comforted that even at my lowest moments i still had some self control (maybe it was just shyness but it saved me from going all the way over the edge).

I got older and began to date, but my heart wasn't in it and it really didn't go anywhere. I am attracted to women also so that was not a problem. I just couldn't "connect" with anyone.

Then I met my wife. From our first phone call it just "clicked". We got married and have a great relationship and a bunch of kids. I hoped that when i got married my 'problem' would go away. I actually stayed "clean" for almost a whole year, but then i fell right back in. My mistake was that I only stopped doing MZ"L, but would still gaze at every boy I saw, fantasize, and masturbate but without MZ"L. I quickly discovered that there's no halfway, but I could not stop and fell back in. This went on for years, I would stop MZ"L for a few weeks or even a couple of months, and then flop right back into the mud.

Then I discovered the internet! first it was just some pictures, but more recently I found all the "goodies" that are available. Now I had even more material to satisfy my fantasies and cravings. I began to secretly look at g po more and more. as time went on i got bolder, even looking at it while my wife was in the next room. (I work in IT so I know how to cover my tracks). She still had no idea.

As I sank deeper into my "alternate reality" I would begin to think and question where I really belong. I felt like I was living a lie (I WAS living a lie, i just wan't sure which one). There were times when I would feel like an outsider watching myself acting in a play, davening, learning, raising my kids to be good Yidden, all the while knowing that i couldn't REALLY believe in it if i was acting the way i was. i began to identify myself in my mind as g*y, wondering if I really belonged in the community where i lived. I wondered if Hashem really knew and cared, if He was really there and didn't want me to be like this why did He play such a nasty trick on me and make me this way....(vlo sosuru....zu haminus). I couldn't take the conflict in my head and wanted out. There were times when i contemplated running away and joining "them", and even considered ending it all....

But Hashem sends the refuah not before the Makkah, but IN the makkah itself. I eventually was compelled to break free...

This past winter I discovered what to me was the most destructive form of porn. Stories. I found a site with literally thousands of stories of boys having relationships. Not just s*x, but friendship and romance. A video is just fun while you see it, and you can only watch it so many times before it gets boring. A story makes you think, and you get emotionally involved with the characters. The stories are serials, with a new chapter added every few days. I would be checking 10 times a day to see what was new. I found myself getting so caught up in them emotionally that it started to affect my daily life.

I also started to realize that as I was getting older, my fantasies were becoming less likely to be fulfilled, what teenager was going to do anything with a guy old enough to be their father? This just increased my sense of emotional desperation. I realized that I was yearning for the friendships i had never had in my youth, and sexualizing them because I had no proper frame of reference due to my stunted social development. I was turning into an emotional train wreck, and that just made me act out even more.

Then hashem started sending me messages, things that would open up my feelings in ways I had never experienced. For a year or 2 now i have started occasionally davening in another shul, wher they daven with intensity and feeling. I thin my own davening started to improve then, and hashem hears it when it comes from the heart even when we don't deserve it....

There are 2 boys in the shul that I daven in that are extremely close friends for years. One in particular was a big "trigger" for me and i fantasized about him all the time. I always imagined that the 2 of them had "something going" (i hope it's not true, I'd hate for them to suffer like this). This past year they went out of town to separate yeshivas and did not see each other for six months. i was in Shul the shabbos before Pesach when they greeted each other after their long separation. They hugged like brothers, and I burst into tears. I never had a FRIEND like that, that I could hug in public. I never felt more alone then in that moment.

Then over Pesach I had a terrible dream. i dreamt that I had a close friend that I had not seen in many years. he was on his way to meet me , and was killed in a car crash. I woke up sobbing, and could barely make it through davening that morning. I couldn't figure out at the time why i affected me that badly, but it was all the accumulated emotional junk starting to bleed out of me. Then by Birchas Kohanim, where we daven for Hashem to heal our dreamd, i totally broke down. i cried, i'm not even sure what i cried FOR. I just cried in pain. I knew i was a hopeless mess and at that moment, i knew that only Hashem could fix me.

At that moment I felt a calmness and resolve rest upon me. i knew that I must do whatever it takes to bring the two halves of my life together. I realized that i have to do something so shocking to me, that i would be forced to completely change my life. i resolved to "come out" to my wife and tell her everything, and take the consequences as they came. At that point I wasn't even thinking about doing teshuva, just to stop living in secret and to take whichever path presented itself. i was prepared for the ultimate rejection. I don't know where i would have gone or what i would have done if that happened, but i couldnt survive anymore with what had been bottled up inside me for so long.

So that firs Motzoei Shabbos after Pesach, i sat down with my wonderful wife and said "I have something to tell you about myself that i have been hiding from you all these years.....I'm gay.....". Her reaction stunned me; "That's not so bad, we will work on fixing it together". In that instant i knew it would be OK. I shared everything with her, all the desperation, all the filth, all the loneliness, all the hopeless yearning for things that cannot and will not be.

We resolved together to work on making it right. The very first thing we did was to install K9 on every computer in the house. From that moment on I have not MZ"L, I have not mast* (except one slip recently), and I have not looked at porn (with one exception). I promised that any slips i would tell her immediately, and that I would see a therapist. I began from then on to daven with kavana and with tears, begging Hashem to give me the strength to hold on and continue, and to fight the Yetzer Hora for me because I cannot do it alone.

The first weeks were sheer hell. Just like starting was like a drug, stopping was like a physical withdrawal. i walked around in a daze, shaking from tension. i committed to making an effort not to look and not to fantasize, but it's not that easy. My triggers are EVERYWHERE, in the street, in the store, in shul, at work (don't even mention the mikva). i don't even have a mechitza to hide behind. I constantly have to force myself to look away. i was literally whimpering with the desire for another look, another trigger to release that good feeling in my head. It's a little easier now, but still a constant struggle.

I had finally acknowledged that I am "gay" and i felt totally disconnected from reality. I would play with my kids in the yard and think to myself "What is this gay guy doing here, i don't belong here". My wife quickly set me straight (pun intended) on that one "You are not gay, you are a yid with a strange and powerful yetzer hora and you are finally fighting it!". I eventually realized that rejecting the label was one of the most important steps in recovery.

I also met with a frum therapist who deals with these issues. He helped me to understand how certain issues from my childhood cause the stunted social development that leads to this problem, and gave me some tips how to control and redirect my thoughts away from the dangerous fantasies.

Sometime during that first desperate week, ~~i discovered~~ Hashem led me to GYE. I had seen the ads before, and I always thought it was for a filtering service like JNet or Yeshivanet, which i was subconsciously resisting because i didn't want to lose access to my precious secret world... But then i was on another website, one that often mocks practices of the frum community. They had a post making fun of the GYE handbook (specifically the "rubberband snapping" thing). The post actually had a link back to the GYE handbook, and i was curious so i clicked it. It was like being transported to a new planet. Suddenly i was not alone anymore, there were so many others who were struggling with similar issues AND SUCCEEDING. I spent hours reading the handbook and browsing the forums, and got tremendous chizuk from it. I even discovered that i was not the only SSA addict out there, and that it can be successfully suppressed.

The entire secular culture is obsessed right now with being "Born This Way" and that it can't be changed and you should just "be yourself" and "it gets better" etc. as much as we strive to separate ourselves from the Goyish attitudes it seeps in like a poison and in moments of self-doubt the Yetzer Hora tries to convince us that they are really right. My weapon is to turn the slogans against them and use it to my own advantage. Yes i was "Born This Way", a member of Hashem's Chosen People, tasked with the mission of spreading His light in a world bent on ignoring Him. we each have our own mission and our own fight, and I have been tasked with a special job. I have a special and unique Yetzer Hora to fight, and although I was held captive by the enemy for 30 years, i have now escaped and i am fighting back! With sweat and tears (lots of tears) I try every day to resist the temptations placed in front of my eyes and the fantasies that linger in my mind. Eventually "It Gets Better", when the desires will fade away with time and it will be easier to resist. i know that just like I will have to pay and burn for each time I don't look away fast enough, so too i will receive infinite reward for each time I resist the urge for a second look, and each time i suppress the fantasies that constantly try to creep into my head.

I mentioned before that there was one exception to stopping to look at porn, and that was the stories (i found a way around the filter for those). I just couldn't. I needed that fix of knowing what happens next. For few weeks I unsuccessfully tried to quit, I would manage a day or 2 then I fell in again. I wasn't even interested in the s*x parts, just the storyline and the emotional buildup. But i knew it had to stop. Then one day i told myself "Enough! if you are serious about this there are no halfways anymore!" i went to Maariv that night and it was the 37th day of the Omer. The sefira of Gevura ShebYesod. I realized "that's what we are all about, Gevura, Kovesh es Yitzro, in the midda of Yesod, of self-control". I resolved that that day would be my personal Yom Kippur of sorts. I davened like never before, and promised that I would never go there again. B"H so far I have been successful. Hence my screen name.

I stayed clean until last friday. Then in the shower i suddenly found myself mast I stopped before anything worse happened, but i feel like i was teetering on the edge of a cliff. Then on shabbos i had fantasy dreams which i had not had in a long time. When i have these dreams they are so real that i experience every sensation. many times I would wake up wet, this time B"H I did not. but I need to strengthen myself over again. The events of the past week have affected me terribly and have left me emotionally drained, and maybe that's what made me vulnerable and in need of "soothing".

So here I am, trying to stay clean and to clear the bad thoughts from my head. It has its ups and

Once again I would like to thank all of you here on GYE who have shared your stories and your struggles, especially those of you who share my particular "flavor" of addiction. The chizuk i get from seeing how everyone encourages each other to get up and start again really inspired me in my darkest moments. Thank You.

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Eye.nonymous - 02 Aug 2011 19:26

guardureyes wrote on 01 Aug 2011 18:42:

YES!! MY DREAM-PROJECTION MACHINE WORKS!!!

That is part of what Guard means when he talks about "bringing this web site to a new level."

Getting the Hebrew forum up and running is child's play.

...and you should wait and see what he's still got in store for us.

This is supposed to be top secret, but you know how if you blow up an Atom Bomb in the earth's atmosphere it will nullify the electricity grid and all electrical devices within a certain vicinity will cease to operate.

We'll there's something in the works that sort of does the same thing to inappropriate internet material and to all people who are dressed immodestly.

But GYE needs your donation dollars to make this a reality. Easy Paypal or credit card options.

--Elyah

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 02 Aug 2011 21:35

BOOM!!!

=====

====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by sababa - 03 Aug 2011 14:13

Wow!what a story!

I feel like 'laagvokeles' because you know that I can not understand you because I do not like it but I must admit that this story has made me strong! How you win, well done!

How's my brother I hope you're getting stronger and everything is good! You le'cazek me to s'mirat anai'm and save to save that I not fall

Successfully. Thank you

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 03 Aug 2011 17:18

Thanks for checking in, Sababa.

The particular "flavor" of our addiction is not what counts, it's recognizing it for what it is and learning how to fight it.

I just read your thread, you've come a long way already, and it gets easier with time, as the images fade away if they are ignored. I second what 90 wrote, the ones where I created an (imaginary) emotional connection in my head are the hardest to get rid of. There are certain people I see regularly that I had built an entire fantasy relationship with, every time I see them now it all tries to come back.

Don't worry about the wet dreams, it's a) your body involuntarily reacting to stopping to act out, and b) your YH trying to use it to get you depressed and discouraged.

Keep On Trucking™

Gevura!

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 03 Aug 2011 19:24

Just checking in, day 18 on the 90 day chart....

Still struggling with the eyes. I am finding it easier to not see things, most of the time I am able to ignore my surroundings. However when I see something it is still a real effort to pull myself away. The YH still has plenty of tricks up his sleeve though. Sometimes I find myself looking around the room "just to check if there is something I ought not to look at". Sneaky basd, that YH!

Going back to something 90 wrote a while back...

ninetydays wrote on 22 Jul 2011 02:48:

I think Rav Yaakov and Rav Moshe have a disagreement whether a desire for males is innate or acquired.

I am familiar with Rav Moshe's teshuva, I just went back and read it again. He insists that it is completely unnatural and acquired and goes so far as to say that it is always a "l'hachis" because there is no natural ta'ava for it. Needless to say that doesn't make me feel really good about myself....

If you can point me to a source for Rav Yaakov's (or any other godol's) opinion on the issue I would appreciate it. I do not presume to take sides, and my determination to overcome this is as strong as ever. I would just like to see how other gedolim approach the issue.

In the FAQ and other places on this forum there is reference to a letter by Rav Feldman from Baltimore. The links just go around in circles, and I have never found the actual letter.

I am always finding new meaning in different parts of Davening, and finding ways to relate it to this struggle. (It's almost like I have a one-track mind. As they say, "When you feel like a nail,
)

Here's something that I thought of recently:

I saw an article a while back from a (not-frum) "bible scholar" who claimed that the Alef Bais we have today is not in its original order, specifically that the Ayin and Peh were originally reversed. He brings all kinds of "proofs" from Tanach and other sources. I will not go into all of them and why they are all shtusim...

everything looks like a hammer"

One of his proofs was from Tehillim 34, Ledovid Beshanos es Taamo.. The relevant pesukim:

?? ?????? ? ????????????????? ??????????? ??????????????????

: ?? ?????? ? ??????????? ??? ??????????? ??????? ??????????

: ?? ?????????? ??? ????????? ?????????????????????? ???????????

: ?? ?????? ? ?????????????????????? ?????????????????????????? ???????????

Posuk ?? refers to the tzaddik, the next one refers to the rasha, and the following ones presumably refer back to the tzaddik's tefillos being answered. He therefore claims that by reversing the first two pesukim the flow of the meaning makes more sense.

I was davening one recent Shabbos morning and I suddenly realized the answer. The two pesukim of Tadi and Kuf are also talking about the Rasha! Hashem shows His anger to the rasha and threatens to remove him from the world. He cries out and Hashem hears and saves him. How can that be? The answer is in the following pasuk. Even a rasha, if he breaks his heart and subjugates his spirit, Hashem listens....

Gevura!

=====

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Yosef Hatzadik - 03 Aug 2011 19:29

GREAT POINT!!!!

=====

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by bardichev - 03 Aug 2011 20:12

keeeppppppppppppppppppontruckingggggggggggggggg

=====

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 03 Aug 2011 20:19

10-4 Bards

=====

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by chazak - 03 Aug 2011 21:07

wow wow great.

i am amazed that you are at your 18th day i am not there yet.

=====

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by helpfyi - 04 Aug 2011 03:19

bardichev wrote on 03 Aug 2011 20:12:

keeeppppppppppppppppppontruckingggggggggggggggg man you crack me up.....

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by mechazek - 04 Aug 2011 08:58

thank you gevurah for that insight

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by Gevura Shebyesod - 08 Aug 2011 14:33

Hello again my friends....

Yesterday was a rough day, not technically a fall but definitely a bad slip.

I spent a few hours in a place where I was surrounded by many many "triggers". I tried unsuccessfully to ignore it but I couldn't hold out. Eventually I just gave up and enjoyed looking.... I was there for a "good cause" (you could even call it a "dvar mitzva"), but in hindsight it was a really bad idea to put myself into a situation like that. I need to remember to consider carefully before doing things like that again. Schar mitzva kneged hefseida....

The weird thing was that as much as I enjoyed looking, it was more superficial and the fantasies (. Maybe I'm getting somewhere? But I cannot allow myself to become complacent. As long as the pull is still there, even giving in a little will eventually bring it all back.

I try to imagine being "normal" and I just can't. I walk into such a place and I see "eye candy", objects of beauty and desire. What is it like to see just.....PEOPLE?

The YH is making me feel like losing that would be giving up an essential part of myself. But I want to, I want to rip it out of me, I want to give it up for my family, for my own sanity, for Hashem. Odom ki Yakriv Michem Korbon, to sacrifice part of myself. But it's so tangled into me. I need to work on it a little at a time, maybe someday it will let go....

I was afraid to go to bed last night, that's usually when everything I see during the day comes back and bites me. B'H nothing happened. I distracted myself by meditating on what I just wrote, and crying to Hashem to help me make the right choices...

Swerving back into the lane and Keeping On Trucking™

Gevura!

=====
=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by alexeliezer - 08 Aug 2011 14:48

Gevura ShebYesod wrote on 08 Aug 2011 14:33:

I try to imagine being "normal" and I just can't. I walk into such a place and I see "eye candy", objects of beauty and desire. What is it like to see just.....PEOPLE?

I have no idea. I wish I could too. And after being clean for over 2 years, it is starting to happen a little, but I'm quick to check myself because eventually the lust guy starts taking over. You obviously have it even harder because of what triggers you.

So good to hear of your success. A slip doesn't necessitate a fall. And today is a brand new day.

Shteig on!

Alex

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by ZemirosShabbos - 08 Aug 2011 18:19

Gevura you are rocking and rolling!

how easy it would have been to just fall and wallow in the shmutz how easy it would be to stop fighting and just coast along

=====

Re: hello my friends....

Posted by chazak - 08 Aug 2011 18:39

Keep up your good work.

=====

=====